Sudan Civil War And Terrorism 1956 99:

Sudan, Civil War and Terrorism, 1956-99 E. O'Ballance, 2000-08-23 Sudan the largest country in Africa became independent in 1956 to find it had a foot in both the Arab Muslim and the Black African camps Almost immediately a sixteen year civil war began ending with autonomy for the South which devolved into chaos A second southern revolution broke out in 1983 when the government introduced the Sharia law which is still in progress the impasse halted only by an uneasy cease fire Central governments have been mainly military dictatorships plagued by plots quarrels with adjacent countries and involvement in international terrorism Sudan, Civil War and Terrorism, 1956-99 Edgar O'Ballance, 2000 In Khartoum government coups and counter coups alternated with periods of military dictatorship In 1983 Sharia law was introduced and attempts were made to force it on the south causing the civil war to resume This stalemated struggle continues In 2000 there have been signs of returning democracy and a multi party election has been held but the reappearance from exile of strong contenders for power does not bode well for the stability of the country BOOK JACKET The First Sudanese Civil War S. Poggio, 2008-12-22 This book is a comprehensive investigation discussion and analysis of the origins and development of the first civil war in the Sudan which occurred between 1955 and 1972 It was the culmination of ethnic racial cultural religious political and economic problems that had faced the Sudan since the Turco Egyptian conquest of the country in 1821 The hostilities between the Northern and Southern regions of the Sudan also involved foreign powers that had their own geopolitical interests in the country The first Sudanese civil war is a classic example of intra regional and inter regional conflicts in Africa in the 20th century Caught Between Borders Marc Vincet, Birgitte Refslund Sorenson, 2001-10-20 Aid workers and social scientists from around the world examine internally displaced people in different countries different settings and different phases of displacement to elucidate response mechanisms during displacement They look at such questions as what refugees do for themselves and their community their resources and goals and challenges at different phases of the process Distributed in the US by Stylus Publishing c Book News Inc Africa and the War on Terrorism John Davis, 2016-03-23 Abject poverty and official corruption make parts of Africa a very attractive destination for terrorist organizations Opportunities have developed during the pre and post 9 11 periods in Africa for the recruitment of terrorists attainment of bases of operations and sources of funding for Al Qaeda or its affiliated terror groups This comprehensive volume provides an extensive examination of major terrorist events in Africa It highlights internal and external indices to illustrate why Africa is so ripe for terrorism ostensibly in terms of recruitment as well as attainment and sources of funding due to the continent's continuing poverty and corruption The volume will prove indispensable reading for anyone researching security issues political sociology and African studies British Muslim Fictions C. Chambers, 2012-03-09 Through interviews with leading writers including Ahdaf Soueif and Hanif Kureishi this book analyzes the writing and opinions of novelists of Muslim heritage based in the UK Discussion centres on writers work literary techniques and influences and on their views of such issues as the hijab the war on terror and the Rushdie Affair Guide to Islamist Movements Barry M. Rubin, Ghosts of Empire Kwasi Kwarteng, 2012-01-01 This fascinating book shows how the later years of the British Empire were characterised by accidental oversights irresponsible opportunism and uncertain pragmatism Peace Negotiations and Time Marco Pinfari, 2013 This book discusses the role of time in peace negotiations and peace processes in the post Cold War period making reference to real world negotiations and using comparative data Deadlines are increasingly used by mediators to spur deadlocked negotiation processes under the assumption that fixed time limits tend to favour pragmatism Yet little attention is typically paid to the durability of agreements concluded in these conditions and research in experimental psychology suggests that time pressure can have a negative impact on individual and collective decision making by reducing each side s ability to deal with complex issues complex inter group dynamics and inter cultural relations This volume explores this lacuna in current research through a comparative model that includes 68 episodes of negotiation and then more in detail in relation to four cases studies the Bougainville and Casamance peace processes and the Dayton and Camp David proximity talks The case studies reveal that in certain conditions low time pressure can impact positively on the durability of agreements by making possible effective intra rebel agreements before official negotiations and that time pressure works in proximity talks only when applied to solving circumscribed deadlocks This book will be of much interest to students of peace processes conflict resolution negotiation diplomacy and international relations in general God Grew Tired of Us John Bul Dau, Michael S. Sweeney, 2008 Explores the indomitable spirit of three Lost boys from the Sudan who are forced to leave their homeland because of a civil war They triumph over adversities and relocate to the U S where they remain deeply committed to helping the friends and family they left behind
