Sudden Radiance Saskatchewan Poetry:

The Literary History of Saskatchewan David Carpenter, 2013-02 Saskatchewan's literary history is both colourful and complex. It is also mature enough to deserve a critical investigation of its roots and origins, its salient features and its prominent players. This collection of scholarly essays conceptualized and compiled by well-known Saskatchewan novelist, essayist, and scholar David Carpenter examines the Saskatchewan literary scene from its early Aboriginal storytellers on through to the decades to the burgeoning 1970s. The dozen essays preceded by a David Carpenter introduction include such topics as Our New Storytellers, Cree Literature in Saskatchewan, The Literary Construction of Saskatchewan before 1905, Narratives of Trade Rebellion and Settlement, and The New Generation: The Seventies Remembered. Also included are special topics among them Playwriting in Saskatchewan, Feral Muse, Angelic Muse, The Poetry of Anne Szumigalski, and tribute pieces to John V. Hicks, R. D. Symons, Terrence Heath, and Alex Karras. Contributing scholars include the likes of Kristina Fagan, Jenny Kerber, Susan Gingell, Ken Mitchell, and Martin Winquist.

Before the First Word Lorna Crozier, 2006-01-01 Lorna Crozier's radical imagination and the finely tuned emotional intelligence that is revealed in the clarity of her poetry have made her one of Canada's most popular poets. Before the First Word: The Poetry of Lorna Crozier is a collection of thirty-five of her best poems selected and introduced by Catherine Hunter and includes an afterword by Crozier herself. Representing her work from 1985 to 2002, the collection reveals the wide range of Lorna Crozier's voice in its most lyrical, contemplative, ironic, and witty moments. Hunter's introduction discusses the poet's major themes with particular attention to her feminist approach to biblical myth and her fascination with absence and silence as sites for imaginative revision. Crozier's afterword, See How Many Ends This Stick Has, is a reflection on poetry as a lyrical meditation that provides an inspirational glimpse into the philosophy of a writer who prizes the intensity of awareness that poetry demands and is tantalized by what predates speaking and all that can't be named. An engaging volume that will appeal to undergraduate students as well as general readers of poetry, Lorna Crozier's work has won many awards, including the Governor General's Award in 1992 for Inventing the Hawk, the first prize for poetry in the CBC Literary Competition, the Canadian Authors Association Award for Poetry in 1992, a National Magazine Award in 1995, and two Pat Lowther Memorial Awards in 1993 and 1996 for the best book of poetry by a Canadian woman. She has published fourteen books of poetry, most recently Whetstone. Born in Swift Current, Saskatchewan, she now lives in British Columbia where she is a Distinguished Professor at the University of Victoria.

Sharing the Past J.A. Weingarten, 2019-09-05 Sharing the Past is an unprecedentedly detailed account of the intertwining discourses of Canadian history and creative literature. When social history emerged as its own field of study in the 1960s, it promised new stories that would bring readers away from the elite writing of academics and closer to the everyday experiences of people. Yet the academy's continued emphasis on professional distance and objectivity made it difficult for historians to connect with the experiences of those about whom they wrote, and those same emphases made it all but impossible for non-academic experts to be institutionally recognized as historians Drawing on interviews and new archival materials to construct a history of Canadian poetry written since 1960 Sharing the Past argues that the project of social history has achieved its fullest expression in lyric poetry a genre in which personal experiences anchor history Developing this genre since 1960 Canadian poets have provided an inclusive model for a truly social history that indiscriminately shares the right to speak authoritatively of the past

A Sudden Radiance Lorna Crozier, Gary Hyland, 1987-01-01 Saskatchewan Writers University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 2004 The more than 175 biographies in this volume together tell the story of writing in Saskatchewan As David Carpenter notes in his Introduction to the volume The writers whose lives are told in these pages are part of an extraordinary cultural community that has touched and been touched by the people and landscape of this province

Challenges Bequeathed , 2009-01-01 In this thoughtful and provocative collection of essays a group of scholars from varied backgrounds and interests have each taken up the educational challenges bequeathed by Dwayne Huebner in his 1996 essay Challenges Bequeathed Huebner encouraged educators to surpass the technical foundations of education affirm the significance of the imagination use the world's intellectual traditions and achievements engage in public discourse about education and speak out for children and youth Each author has extended and in some ways transcended the discussion of these five challenges yet still draw upon the considerable contribution Dwayne Huebner has made to the field of education The writers in this volume grapple with the complexities of teaching and learning as always in process and as always relational of schools as sites of creative and imaginative acts of knowing and being The book begins with Huebner's 1996 essay wherein he delineates the challenges for educators as he perceived them Readers are invited to begin with this chapter However after taking in Professor Huebner's prescience his ability to see years in advance of everyone else what is deeply at work in present times where it is headed and what needs to be done about it Smith this volume we encourage readers to dip into this volume randomly rather than in sequential order While doing so it is important to be mindful that these challenges do not exist in isolation of each other rather they are inextricably linked in myriad ways Each one of these challenges requires consideration of classroom spaces the individuals who occupy these spaces and how these spaces are influenced by external forces Tupper this volume We invite you to take up a challenge Batoche Kim Morrissey,1989 Batoche is a collection of poems by Kim Morrissey which deal with the events leading up to and surrounding the Northwest Rebellion of 1885 Kim Morrissey presents the basic facts of several well documented historical events the Duck Lake Massacre March 26 1885 the skirmish at Fish Creek April 24 1885 and the battle at Batoche May 9 12 1885 which comprise the Northwest Rebellion However the author assumes a different perspective in retelling the story of the Metis uprising Morrissey interprets the events through the eyes of some of their participants Some of the characters are well known such as Louis Riel Gabriel Dumont and General Middleton Others are the lesser known or the often forgotten participants of this intriguing period of history One such individual is Marguerite Riel Louis wife who is usually overlooked by the history books who is left sick and alone with two small children to raise following the hanging of her husband From the words of an anonymous soldier in Middleton s force writing a letter to his family in eastern Canada to an interpretation of the events through the eyes of one of Riel s children to the aftermath of the rebellion on the Batoche settlement Batoche goes beyond the bare historical facts Kim Morrissey has reconstructed history taking into account all the hopes and dreams of a people and the rumours and prejudices of an era Canadian Author & Bookman ,1985 Writing Saskatchewan University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center,1989 To mark the Saskatchewan School of the Arts twentieth year a symposium on Saskatchewan writing was held at the School June 18 to 21 1987 The essays in this volume are edited versions of twenty of the papers presented that weekend
