What on Earth is a Ruling Party in a Multiparty Democracy? Musings and Ruminations of an Armchair Critic Kashoki, Mubanga E.,2014-10-07 The primary objective of What on Earth is a Ruling Party in a Multiparty Democracy is to provoke thought and thereby stimulate debate To this end provocatively this collection of topical issues ranges from The place of the miniskirt in sociocultural development to Which citizen in Zambia should not take part in partisan politics The Author Mubanga E Kashoki is a Professor of African Languages at the institute of Economic and Social Research in the University of Zambia

Women's Authority and Society in Early East-Central Africa Christine Saidi,2010 This study of more than two thousand years of African social history weaves together evidence from historical linguistics archaeology comparative ethnography oral tradition and art history to challenge the assumptions that all African societies were patriarchal and that the status of women in precolonial Africa is beyond the scope of historical research In East Central Africa women played key roles in technological and economic developments during the long precolonial period Female political leaders were as common as male rulers and women especially mothers were central to religious ceremonies and beliefs These conclusions contribute a new and critical element to our understanding of Africa s precolonial history Book Jacket Bembaland Church Brian Garvey,2023-07-10 Roman Catholic missionaries entered the territory of Bemba speakers in Central Africa in 1891 Seventy years later the Church in Bembaland was about to enter a new phase as an independent religious community within a newly established African nation This book traces the stages of church growth from its pioneering introduction to a traditional agricultural polity through periods of disturbing economic and social change to the later challenges from autochthonous Christian foundations originating in both the Catholic and Protestant traditions African Studies: Breakthroughs in Research and Practice Management Association, Information Resources,2020-04-03 Global interest in African studies has been rapidly growing as researchers realize the importance of understanding the impact African communities can have on the economy development education and more As the use acceptance and popularity of African knowledge increases it is crucial to explore how this community based knowledge provides deeper insights understanding and influence on such things as decision making and problem solving African Studies Breakthroughs in Research and Practice examines the politics culture language history socio economic development methodologies and contemporary experiences of African peoples from around the world Highlighting a range of topics such as indigenous knowledge developing countries and public administration this publication is an ideal reference source for sociologists policymakers anthropologists government officials economists instructors researchers academicians and graduate level students in a variety of fields How to live and survive in Zambezian open forest (Miombo ecoregion) Françoise Malaisse,2010 In the Miombo ecoregion 2 865 000 km or 9 1% of Africa the Zambezian open forest constitutes the main vegetation unit It extends to no less than eight countries from Burundi in the North to South Africa in the South and from Angola in the West to Mozambique in the East The austral part of Africa s open forests falls within the Zambezian Regional Center of Endemism outlined by White in 1983 This book focuses mainly on the wetter Zambezian Miombo woodlands Also patches of mosaic Zambezian dry evergreen forests and small areas of grasslands on Kalahari sands are incorporated in the study The aim of this book is to gather together the amazing local environment knowledge of Zambezian open forests peoples in order to permit an easier improvement of their well being This research has been developed in an ethnoecological way of thinking Indeed the synergy arising from putting together local knowledge and updated ecological research provides huge information on ecosystem management including biodiversity aspects Ethnoecology is an emergent field that focuses on local peoples perception and management of complex and co evolved relationships between the cultural ecological and economic components of anthropogenic and natural ecosystems In the present book the Zambezian wild edible products are treated according to fourteen items from fungi plants and honey to beverages and salt through mammals birds fish insects and other animals Some other comments concern agriculture and ethnoecology All together more than a thousand edible products are involved their ecology their phenology as well as their nutritional values are presented and discussed The iconography is supported by a CD with 387 color photographs The earlier French version of 1997 has been reviewed and enlarged taking into account recent progress of knowledge An important bibliography is presented
