Sins Against Science Lynda Walsh,2006-09-14 Recounts the fake news stories written from 1830 to 1880 about scientific and technological discoveries and the effect these hoaxes had on readers and their trust in science     Language, Gender, and Community in Late Twentieth-Century Fiction M. Hurst,2011-04-11 Drawing on critical frameworks this study establishes the centrality of language gender and community in the quest for identity in contemporary American fiction Close readings of novels by Alice Walker Ernest Gaines Ann Beattie John Updike Chang rae Lee and Rudolfo Anaya among others show how individuals find their American identities     Linguistic Metaphor and the Language of Criticism Jacqueline Margaret Henkel,1984     The Rhetoric of Religious Cults A. Mooney,2005-08-02 The Rhetoric of Religious Cults takes as its departure point the notion that cults have a distinctive language and way of recruiting members First outlining a rhetorical framework which encompasses contemporary discourse analysis the persuasive texts of three movements Scientology Jehovah s Witnesses and Children of God are analysed in detail and their discourse compared with other kinds of recruitment literature Cults distinctive negative profile in society is not matched by a linguistic typology Indeed this negative profile seems to rest on the semantics and application of the term cult itself     A Cognitive Approach to Ernest Hemingway's Short Fiction Gabriela Tucan,2021-04-09 How do readers make sense of Hemingway s short stories How is it possible that the camera like quality of his narrative can appeal to our senses and arouse our emotions How does it capture us With reserved narrators and protagonists engaged in laconic dialogs his texts do not seem to say much This book consciously revisits our responses to the Hemingway story a belated response to his invitation to discover what lies beneath the surface of his iceberg What this pioneering critical endeavor seeks to understand is the thinking required in reading Hemingway s short fiction It proposes a cognitively informed model of reading which questions the resources of the reader s imaginative powers The cognitive demonstrations here are designed to have potentially larger implications for the short story s general mode of knowing Drawing from both cognitively oriented poetics and narratology in equal measure this book explains what structures our interaction with literary texts     Rhetorical Agendas Patricia Bizzell,2006-04-21 This volume represents current theory and research in rhetoric across disciplines and is of interest to scholars and students in rhetoric studies in speech communication English and related disciplines     Comparative Criticism: Volume 3 E. C. Spearing,2005-10-27 This book investigates how subjectivity is encoded in the texts of a wide variety of medieval narratives and lyrics not how they express the subjectivity of individuals but how subjectivity escaping the bounds of individuality is incorporated in the linguistic fabric of their texts Most of the poems discussed are in English and the book includes analyses of Chaucer s Troilus and Criseyde Man of Law s Tale and Complaint Unto Pity the works of the Pearl poet Havelok the Dane the lyric sequence attributed to Charles of Orleans the earliest such sequence in English and many anonymous poems It also devotes sections to Ovid's Heroides and to poems by the troubadour Bernart de Ventadorn For the first time it brings to bear on medieval narratives and lyrics a body of theory which denies the supposed necessity for literary texts to have narrators or speakers and in doing so reveals the implausibilities into which a dogmatic assumption of this necessity has led much of the last century's criticism African Folklore Philip M. Peek, Kwesi Yankah, 2004-03-01 Written by an international team of experts this is the first work of its kind to offer comprehensive coverage of folklore throughout the African continent Over 300 entries provide in depth examinations of individual African countries ethnic groups religious practices artistic genres and numerous other concepts related to folklore Featuring original field photographs a comprehensive index and thorough cross references African Folklore An Encyclopedia is an indispensable resource for any library's folklore or African studies collection Also includes seven maps

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years. Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume. Their work is organized into three parts. In Part I, forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose. The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address. Part II focuses on individual theorists. It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I. This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context. Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory. It identifies significant complex terms, places them in context, and explains their origins and use. Accessibility is a key feature of the work. By avoiding jargon, providing mini bibliographies, and cross referencing throughout, Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture.

Text to Reader Theo d' Haen, Theo d'. Haen, 1983-01-01. Text to Reader seeks to find a critical approach that links a novel's form to its socio cultural context. Combining elements from Iser's reception aesthetics, speech act theory, and Goffman's frame analysis, this book starts from the assumption that a reader has certain conventional expectations with regard to a novel and then goes on to examine how violations of these expectations rule the reader's relationship to the novel. The theory sketched in the first chapter is then in four subsequent chapters applied to The French Lieutenant's Woman by the English author John Fowles, Letters by the American John Barth, Libro de Manuel by the Argentinean Julio Cortázar, and De Kapellekensbaan by the Flemish novelist Louis Paul Boon. The particular form each of these novels takes is analyzed as correlative to that novel's communicative function. This book will be of interest to comparatists, students of English and American literature, and the literatures of Latin America and the Low Countries.

Medievalism, Multilingualism, and Chaucer M. Davidson, 2009-12-21. In New Readings of Medieval Language Attitudes and Identities, this book concludes that multilingualism informed masculinist discourses which were aligned against the vernacular sentiment traditionally attributed to Langland and Chaucer.
