The Last Valley Dien Bien Phu And The French Defeat In Vietnam:

The Last Valley Martin Windrow, 2004-12-13 In December 1953 the French army occupying Vietnam challenged the elusive Vietnamese army to engage in battle at Dien Bien Phu The story of how the siege in the jungle wore on until the French were depleted demoralized and destroyed is meticulously researched for this volume Dien Bien Phu 1954

Martin Windrow, 2021-08-19 A highly illustrated study of the battle at Dien Bien Phu the 56 day siege that eventually led to the surrender of the remaining French led forces this iconic battle provided the climax of the First Indochina War In late 1953 the seventh year of France's war against the Viet Minh insurgency in its colony of Vietnam the C in C General Navarre was encouraged to plant an air ground base in the Thai Highlands at Dien Bien Phu to distract General Giap's Vietnamese People's Army from both Annam and the French northern heartland in the Red River Delta and to protect the Laotian border Elite French paratroopers captured Dien Bien Phu which was reinforced between December 1953 and February 1954 with infantry and artillery a squadron of tanks and one of fighter bombers to a strength of 10 000 men Giap and the VPA General Staff accepted the challenge of a major positional battle through a total mobilization of national resources and with Chinese logistical help they assembled a siege army of 58 000 regular troops equipped for the first time with 105mm artillery and 37mm AA guns Here author Martin Windrow describes how from their first assaults on 13 March 1954 the battle quickly developed into a dramatic 56 day Stalingrad in the jungle that drew the attention of the world The Last Valley Martin Windrow, 2011-12-01 Stalingrad in the jungle the battle that doomed the French Empire and led America into Vietnam In winter 1953-54 the French army in Vietnam challenged its elusive enemy General Giap's Viet Minh to pitched battle Ten thousand French paras and legionnaires with artillery and tanks were flown to the remote valley of Dien Bien Phu to build a fortress upon which Giap could smash his inexperienced regiments The siege which followed became a Stalingrad in the jungle and its outcome shocked the world Autopsy of an Unwinnable War: Vietnam William C. Haponski, Jerry J.

Burcham, 2019-06-11 A military studies professor and former combatant rationally dissects the strategies and mindsets on both sides of this thirty year conflict New York Journal of Books Since the fall of Saigon in 1975 there have been much discussion of why and whether America lost the war in Vietnam The common belief is that the war was lost not on the battlefield but in Washington DC The stark facts though are that the Vietnam War was lost before the first American shot was fired In fact it was lost before the first French Expeditionary Corps shot almost two decades earlier and was finally lost when the South Vietnamese fought partly then entirely on their own Offering an informed narrative of the entire thirty year war this book seeks to explain why Written by a combatant in six large battles and many smaller firefights who was also a leader with a full range of pacification duties a commander who lost forty three wonderful young men Autopsy of an Unwinnable War is the result of a quest for answers by one who after decades of wondering what it was all about turned to a years long search of French American and Vietnamese sources This is a story lived and revealed mainly by the people inside Vietnam who were directly involved in the war from leaders in high positions down to the jungle boots and sandals level of the fighters and among the Vietnamese who were living it Because of what was happening inside Vietnam itself no matter what policies and directives came out of Paris or Washington or the influences in Moscow or Beijing it is about a Vietnamese idea that would eventually triumph over bullets Includes photographs The End of the First Indochina War James

Waite,2012-08-21 The French withdrawal from Vietnam in 1954 was the product of global pressures and triggered significant global consequences By treating the war as an international issue this book places Indochina at the center of the Cold War in the mid 1950s Arguing that the Indochina War cannot be understood as a topic of Franco US relations but ought to be treated as international history this volume brings in Vietnamese and other global agents including New Zealand Australia and especially Britain as well as China and the Soviet Union Importantly the book also argues that the successful French withdrawal from Vietnam a political defeat for the Eisenhower administration helped to avert outright warfare between the major powers although with very mixed results for the inhabitants of Vietnam who faced partition and further bloodshed The End of the First Indochina War explores the complexities of intra alliance competition over global strategy especially between the United States and British Commonwealth arguing that these rivalries are as important to understanding the Cold War as east west confrontation This is the first truly global interpretation of the French defeat in 1954 based on the author s research in five western countries and the latest scholarship from historians of Vietnam China and Russia Readers will find much that is new both in terms of archival revelations and original interpretations Extraordinary Valor William
