Death, Contemplation and Schopenhauer R. Raj Singh, 2007-01-01 The connections between death contemplation and the contemplative life have been a recurrent theme in the canons of both western and eastern philosophical thought This book examines the classical sources of this philosophical literature in particular Plato's Phaedo and the Katha Upanishad and then proceeds to a sustained analysis and critical assessment of the sources and standpoints of a single thinker Arthur Schopenhauer whose work comprehensively pursues this problem The book traces the pivotal issue of death through the whole range of Schopenhauer's writings uncovering the deeper connotations of his crucial notion of the will to live

Technologies of Life and Death Kelly Oliver, 2013-06-05 The central aim of this book is to approach contemporary problems raised by technologies of life and death as ethical issues that call for a more nuanced approach than mainstream philosophy can provide To do so it draws on the recently published seminars of Jacques Derrida to analyze the extremes of birth and dying insofar as they are mediated by technologies of life and death With an eye to reproductive technologies it shows how a deconstructive approach can change the very terms of contemporary debates over technologies of life and death from cloning to surrogate motherhood to capital punishment particularly insofar as most current discussions assume some notion of a liberal individual The ethical stakes in these debates are never far from political concerns such as enfranchisement citizenship oppression racism sexism and the public policies that normalize them Technologies of Life and Death thus provides pointers for rethinking dominant philosophical and popular assumptions about nature and nurture chance and necessity masculine and feminine human and animal and what it means to be a mother or a father In part the book seeks to disarticulate a tension between ethics and politics that runs through these issues in order to suggest a more ethical politics by turning the force of sovereign violence back against itself In the end it proposes that deconstructive ethics with a psychoanalytic supplement can provide a corrective for moral codes and political clichés that turn us into mere answering machines Play Among Books Miro Roman, Alice_ch3n81, 2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science The

Theology, Science and Life Carmody Grey, 2023-01-26 Offering a bold intervention in the ongoing debate about the relationship between theology and science Theology Science and Life proposes that the strong demarcation between the two spheres is unsustainable theology occurs within and not outside what we call science and science occurs within and not outside theology The book applies this in a penetrating way to the most topical contentious and philosophically charged science of late modernity biology Rejecting the easy dualism of expressions such as theology and science theology or science modern biology is examined so as to illuminate the nature of both In making this argument the book achieves two further things It is the first major English language reception and application of the thought of philosopher Hans Jonas in theology and it makes a decisive contribution to the unfolding reception of Radical Orthodoxy one of the most influential schools in contemporary Anglophone theology The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 Remix and Life Hack in Hip Hop Michael B. MacDonald, 2016-07-15 Many hiphoppas labour to sustain Hiphop Kulture in their communities far from the big stages world tours and hit singles enjoyed by a shockingly few American hiphoppas The creative labour of these few mega stars is calculated in billions of dollars But for most hiphoppas their creative labour may never get expressed in economic terms Instead it is expressed in social capital the production of collective and individual subjectivities the bonds of love that build and hold communities together and the healing of broken hearts broken homes and broken neighborhoods in broken cities Hiphop Kulture is NOT a music genre it is MUCH more and exploring how the sharing of aesthetic resources builds community and how situated learning plays a necessary role in cultural sustainability draws out questions that may lead to a model of community located cultural education and a starting point for a critical pedagogy of music I ain t going to front academics talking about hiphop scares me and often pisses me off I m protective about this culture like it s my own baby because it s meant so much to me and my close friends In my less angry moments I do appreciate the fact that this culture still has so much to give to the rest of the world and that the next level is what we give back Well we need allies in this complex world to move things forward As I've gotten to know Michael I consider him such an Ally and that his intent is firmly squared in empowering cats in the front lines I also really dig the fact that he is committed to helping document the histories of those who laid the groundwork in the Edmonton scene This is the respectful place to start I look forward to bearing witness to Grass roots Hiphop reclaiming its voice and being at the forefront with academics supporting their community efforts Stephen Buddha Leafloor Founder of the Canadian Floor Masters Founder of Blueprintforlife.ca Ashoka Fellow Social Worker and an aging bboy Dr Michael B MacDonald's research into Hip Hop's pedagogical ingenuity have not only led us to the grassroots of Hip Hop's rich and vibrant global culture but to the very Ethos of Hiphop With bold examination this exciting research stands at the forefront of contemporary post colonial Hiphop literature Andre Hamilton aka Dre Pharoh Executive Director Cipher5 Hiphop Academy Temple of HipHop Canada
