Environmental Health Perspectives, 1993 The Political Economy of Workplace Injury in Canada Bob Barnetson, 2010 Workplace injuries are common avoidable and unacceptable The Political Economy of Workplace Injury in Canada reveals how employers and governments engage in ineffective injury prevention efforts intervening only when necessary to maintain standard legitimacy Barnetson sheds light on this faulty system highlighting the way in which employers create dangerous work environments yet pour billions of dollars into compensation and treatment Examining this dynamic clarifies the way in which production costs are passed on to workers in the form of workplace injuries

Intellectual Property, Faculty Rights and the Public Good Samantha Bernstein-Sierra, Adrianna Kezar, 2017-03-15 Explore the different forms that intellectual property IP has taken in higher education in recent years and how to navigate the changing landscape for faculty members and university administrators Due to technological advancements and the rise of neo liberal policies influenced by academic capitalism faculty members are finding their rights being renegotiated often without their input Through patents copyrights distance education programs and MOOCS universities and publishers are seeking to gain a competitive advantage in a market largely dominated by profit generation All this is putting the university's public mission in tension with increasingly profit driven university management practices This volume Presents policy trends in university IP regulation over the past 40 years Examines the utility of IP rights in higher education Considers the implications of knowledge ownership in the academic profession and Details the IP barriers that faculty encounter when attempting to share their work This is the 177th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Higher Education Addressed to presidents vice presidents deans and other higher education decision makers on all kinds of campuses it provides timely information and authoritative advice about major issues and administrative problems confronting every institution

The Language of Risk Dorothy Nelkin, 1985-05 Collection of essays on attitudes to occupational safety and occupational health in the USA discusses trade union attitudes and management attitudes as reflected in terminology disclosure of information the terms used by journalists and industrial physicians administrative aspects legal aspects and safety and health policy to illustrate the conflicting interests arising from social status political ideology economic role and occupational bias References Regulation and Risk Bridget M. Hutter,2001 This study examines the impact of a system of enforced self regulation on the corporate life of British Railways The book raises important questions about how workplace risks are managed and what influence the law can have Class, Contention, and a World in Motion Winnie Lem,Pauline Gardiner Barber,2010-07-01 Prevailing scholarship on migration tends to present migrants as the objects of history subjected to abstract global forces or to concrete forms of regulation imposed by state and supra state organizations In this volume by contrast the focus is on migrants as the subjects of history who not only react but also act to engage with and transform their worlds Using ethnographic examples from Africa Asia Europe North America and the Middle East contributors question how and why particular forms of political struggle and collective action may or indeed may not be carried forward in the context of geographic and social border crossings In doing so they bring the dynamic relationship between class gender and culture to the forefront in each distinctive migration setting

Recommendations and Reports Administrative Conference of the United States,1988 Trust Us, We're Experts PA Sheldon Rampton,John Stauber,2002-01-14 The authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good for You unmask the sneaky and widespread methods industry uses to influence opinion through bogus experts doctored data and manufactured facts We count on the experts We count on them to tell us who to vote for what to eat how to raise our children We watch them on TV listen to them on the radio read their opinions in magazine and newspaper articles and letters to the editor We trust them to tell us what to think because there s too much information out there and not enough hours in a day to sort it all out We should stop trusting them right this second In their new book Trust Us We re Experts How Industry Manipulates Science and Gambles with Your Future Sheldon Rampton and John Stauber authors of Toxic Sludge Is Good For You offer a chilling expos on the manufacturing of independent experts Public relations firms and corporations know well how to exploit your trust to get you to buy what they have to sell Let you hear it from a neutral third party like a professor or a pediatrician or a soccer mom or a watchdog group The problem is these third parties are usually anything but neutral They have been handpicked cultivated and meticulously packaged in order to make you believe what they have to say preferably in an objective format like a news show or a letter to the editor And in some cases they have been paid handsomely for their opinions For example You think that nonprofit organizations just give away their stamps of approval on products Bristol Myers Squibb paid 600 000 to the American Heart Association for the right to display AHA s name and logo in ads for its cholesterol lowering drug Pravachol SmithKline Beecham paid the American Cancer Society 1 million for the right to use its logo in ads for Beecham s Nicoderm CQ and Nicorette anti smoking ads You think that a study out of a prestigious university is completely unbiased In 1997 Georgetown University s Credit Research Center issued a study which concluded that many debtors are using bankruptcy as an excuse to wriggle out of their obligations to creditors Former U S Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen cited the study in a Washington Times column and advocated for changes in federal law to make it harder for consumers to file for bankruptcy relief What Bentsen failed to mention was that the Credit Research Center is funded in its entirety by credit card companies banks retailers and others in the credit industry that the study itself was produced with a 100 000 grant from VISA USA Inc and MasterCard International and that Bentsen himself had been hired to work as a credit industry lobbyist You think that all grassroots organizations are truly grassroots In 1993 a group called Mothers Opposing Pollution MOP appeared calling itself the largest women s environmental group in Australia with thousands of supporters across the country Their cause A campaign against plastic milk bottles It turned out that the group s spokesperson Alana Maloney was in truth a woman named Janet Rundle the business partner of a man who did P R for the Association of Liquidpaperboard Carton Manufacturers the makers of paper milk cartons You think that if a scientist says so it must be true In the early 1990s tobacco companies secretly paid thirteen scientists a total of 156 000 to write a few letters to influential medical journals One biostatistician received 10 000 for writing a single eight paragraph letter that was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association A cancer researcher received 20 137 for writing four letters and an opinion piece to the Lancet the Journal of the National Cancer Institute and The Wall Street Journal Rampton and Sta Risk, Culture, and Health Inequality Barbara H. Harthorn,Laury Oaks,2003-04-30 Examines the diverse uses and abuses of risk by social actors across a wide range of cultural ethnic and geographical locales The introductory chapter by the two co editors analyzes and contextualizes current scholarly debates on the social cultural and political construction of risk It is followed by an overview on the anthropology of harm reduction that outlines an innovative framework for culturally informed risk analysis The remaining nine chapters are organized into three sections The Cultivation of Fear Perceptions of Health Safety and Hazard Risk Makers and Risk Takers and Regulating Risk and the Public s Health The book aims to address a set of questions of theoretical and practical importance to anthropologists sociologists public health scholars and professionals and public policy advocates among others These questions include How do individuals conceptualize and respond to risk Can risk be a tool of empowerment for individuals and communities who define themselves as at risk How has risk figured recently in the production of health inequality Has the social contract to provide care in its broadest sense expanded or contracted around issues of risk Are risk and the imperative to adhere to risk warnings used by experts as a means of social control The volume s contributors medical anthropologists and sociologists provide rich grounded ethnographic case material on the processes at work in everyday social life around the globe as individuals and groups struggle to make saense of the health risks and inequities in their lives and communities Authors address an array of urgent health concerns ranging from food safety to environment new technologies to infectious disease in such contrasting locales as the US Europe South and Southeast Asia and North Africa and across diverse ethnicities and social classes
