Mortimer,2018-10-24 The captivity narrative the earliest genre of American popular literature continues to be of cultural significance in late 20th century Hollywood Many popular films of the last four decades incorporate the most common elements of the captivity narrative tradition including a politically contested frontier setting and a plot involving innocent family oriented white Americans held captive by hostile culturally alien natives At the same time these films offer something new to the narrative tradition they focus on the captive who resists rescue and the challenge this resistance poses to American cultural self confidence By focusing on the lost captive these films beginning with The Searchers 1956 deal with questions about American identity raised by a white American s cultural and potentially political transformation Films as diverse as Little Big Man Taxi Driver and The Deer Hunter adapted the captivity narrative s conventions to criticize aspects of contemporary American society and reject outworn models of male heroism at the same time however they retained the genre s traditional assumption of white superiority and its fear of female sexuality

On the Margins of Realism Ting Luo,2025-03-31 Realism has been endowed with a certain orthodox status as the aesthetic counterpart of China s modernization and studies of Chinese film history have largely accepted a master narrative of realism as the guiding aesthetic of mainland Chinese cinema This book argues however that alternative aesthetics to realism have always existed in Chinese cinema throughout its history from the early silent era to the new century The alternative aesthetics are closely linked to the indigenous Chinese ontology of cinema namely shadowplay yingxi The author presents an alternative account through a close examination of four distinct visual narrative and stylistic devices or themes that recur in different periods of Chinese film history the dream representation the doubling of characters the device of self reflexivity and the allegorical construction of space By considering specific films and scenes as problematic sites where history politics and aesthetics collide this book also seeks to elucidate the relationship between cinema and the multifaceted experiences of Chinese modernity with respect to subjectivity ideology identity and nationality This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Chinese cinemas realism and modernism Green
