Cold War Culture Jim Smyth, 2016-04-04 Britain in the 1950s had a distinctive political and intellectual climate It was the age of Keynesianism of welfare state consensus incipient consumerism and to its detractors the so called Angry Young Men and the emergent New Left a new age of complacency While Prime Minister Harold Macmillan famously remarked that most of our people have never had it so good the playwright John Osborne lamented that there aren't any good brave causes left Philosophers political scientists economists and historians embraced the supposed end of ideology and fetishized value free technique and analysis This turn is best understood in the context of the cultural Cold War in which ideology served as shorthand for Marxist but it also drew on the rich resources and traditions of English empiricism and a Burkean scepticism about abstract theory in general Ironically cultural critics and historians such as Raymond Williams and E P Thompson showed at this time that the thick catalogue of English moral aesthetic and social critique could also be put to altogether different purposes Jim Smyth here shows that despite being allergic to McCarthy style vulgarity British intellectuals in the 1950s operated within powerful Cold War paradigms all the same

The American Skyscraper Roberta Moudry, 2005-05-09 Publisher Description History, 1931 Skyscraper Gothic Kevin D. Murphy estate, Lisa Reilly, 2017-07-06 Of all building types the skyscraper strikes observers as the most modern in terms not only of height but also of boldness scale ingenuity and daring As a phenomenon born in late nineteenth century America it quickly became emblematic of New York Chicago and other major cities Previous studies of these structures have tended to foreground examples of more evincing modernist approaches while those with styles reminiscent of the great Gothic cathedrals of Europe were initially disparaged as being antimodernist or were simply unacknowledged Skyscraper Gothic brings together a group of renowned scholars to address the medievalist skyscraper from flying buttresses to dizzying spires from the Chicago Tribune Tower to the Woolworth Building in Manhattan Drawing on archival evidence and period texts to uncover the ways in which patrons and architects came to understand the Gothic as a historic style the authors explore what the appearance of Gothic forms on radically new buildings meant urbanistically architecturally and socially not only for those who were involved in the actual conceptualization and execution of the projects but also for the critics and the general public who saw the buildings take shape Contributors Lisa Reilly on the Gothic skyscraper Kevin Murphy on the Trinity and U S Realty Buildings Gail Fenske on the Woolworth Building Joanna Merwood Salisbury on the Chicago School Katherine M Solomonson on the Tribune Tower Carrie Albee on Atlanta City Hall Anke Koeth on the Cathedral of Learning Christine G O Malley on the American Radiator Building Conservative revolutionary David Hayton, 2019-08-26 A biography of the historian and public intellectual Sir Lewis Namier from his origins in a secular Jewish family in Poland to recognition as the most important historian of his day whose revolutionary method was enshrined in the verb to Namierise Westminster's World Donald Searing, 1994 From Policy Advocates to Whips to Ministers the many roles within the British Parliament are shaped not only by institutional rules but also by the individuals who fill them yet few observers have fully appreciated this vital aspect of governing in one of the world's oldest representative systems Applying a new motivational role theory to materials from extensive first hand interviews conducted during the eventful 1970s Donald Searing deepens our understanding of how Members of Parliament understand their goals their careers and their impact on domestic and global issues He explores how Westminster's world both controls and is created by individuals illuminating the interplay of institutional constraints and individual choice in shaping roles within the political arena No other book tells us so much about political life at Westminster Searing has interviewed 521 Members of Parliament including Conservative Ministers Margaret Thatcher Peter Walker and James Prior Labour Ministers Harold Wilson Barbara Castle and Denis Healey rising stars Michael Heseltine Norman Tebbit David Owen and Roy Hattersley habitual outsiders like Michael Foot who eventually joined the inner circle and former insiders like Enoch Powell who were shut out Searing also gives voice to the vast number of Westminster's backbenchers who play a key part in shaping political roles in Parliament but are less likely to be heard in the media trade unionists knights of the shires owners of small businesses and others In this segment of his study women senior backbenchers and newcomers are well represented Searing adroitly blends quantitative with qualitative analysis and integrates social and economic theories about political behavior He addresses concerns about power duty ambition and representation and skillfully joins these concerns with his critical discoveries about the desires beliefs and behaviors associated with roles in Parliament Westminster's World offers political scientists historians anthropologists political commentators and the public rich new material about the House of Commons as well as a convincing model for understanding the structure and dynamics of political roles
