Sons Of The Wind The Sacred Stories Of The Lakota:

The Sons of the Wind D. M. Dooling, James R. Walker, 2000 A presentation of Lakota creation mythology taken from material originally collected and transcribed by James R Walker offers reflections on Lakota celebrations of the spirit

Näyteikkunat ,1935 Better Than a Turkish Prison Sinasta J. Colucci, 2022-06-29 Better Than a Turkish Prison is the true story of a needy young man who encounters a religious cult known as The Twelve Tribes With no better options in sight he decides to join them in their pursuit to build the kingdom of God on Earth After years of brainwashing and servitude he must break free from a powerful delusion in his search for freedom and truth Not merely a deeply personal portrayal of one man s struggles this book also serves as a critical analysis of religious ideals and their effects on humanity as the author divulges his presently held beliefs Divine Play, Sacred Laughter, and Spiritual Understanding P. Laude, 2005-10-20

This study in the relationship between religion and the comic focuses on the ways in which the latter fulfils a central function in the sacred understanding of reality of pre modern cultures and the spiritual life of religious traditions The central thesis is that figures such as tricksters sacred clowns and holy fools play an essential role in bridging the gap between the divine and the human by integrating the element of disequilibrium that results from the contact between incommensurable realities This interdisciplinary and cross cultural series of essays is devoted to spiritual anthropological and literary characters and phenomena that point to a deeper understanding of the various mythological ceremonial and mystical ways in which the fundamental ambiguity of existence is symbolized and acted out Given its interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspective this volume will appeal to scholars from a variety of fields Miracles: An Exercise in Comparative Philosophy of Religion Karen

R. Zwier, David L. Weddle, Timothy D. Knepper, 2022-11-03 This volume provides a comparative philosophical investigation into a particular concept from a variety of angles in this case the concept of miracle The text covers deeply philosophical questions around the miracle with a multiplicity of answers Each chapter brings its own focus to this multifaceted effort The volume rejects the primarily western focus that typically dominates philosophy of religion and is filled with particular examples of miracle narratives community responses and polemical scenarios across widely varying religious contexts and historical periods Some of these examples defy religious categorization and some papers challenge the applicability of the concept miracle which is of western and monotheistic origin By examining miracles thru a wide comparative context this text presents a range of descriptive content and analysis with attention to the audience to the subjective experiences being communicated and to the flavor of the narratives that come to surround miracles This book appeals to students and researchers working in philosophy of religion and science as well those in comparative religion It represents in written form some of the perspectives and dialogue achieved in The Comparison Project s 2017 2019 lecture series on miracles The Comparison Project is an enterprise in comparing a variety of religious voices allowing them to stand in dialogue A Companion to Custer and the Little Bighorn Campaign Brad D. Lookingbill, 2019-09-18 An accessible and authoritative overview of the scholarship that has shaped our understanding of one of the most iconic battles in the history of the American West Combines contributions from an array of respected scholars historians and battlefield scientists Outlines the political and cultural conditions that laid the foundation for the Centennial Campaign and examines how George Armstrong Custer became its figurehead Provides a detailed analysis of the battle maneuverings at Little Bighorn paying special attention to Indian testimony from the battlefield Concludes with a section examining how the Battle of Little Bighorn has been mythologized and its pervading influence on American culture Philosophies of Religion Timothy Knepper,2022-11-03 In this global introduction to philosophy of religion you begin not with a single tradition but with religious philosophies from East Asia South Asia West Africa and Native North America alongside the classical Abrahamic and modern European traditions Matching this diversity of traditions chapters are organized around questions that acknowledge there is no single understanding of any god or ultimate reality Instead you approach six different traditions of philosophizing about religion by asking questions about the journeys of both the self and the cosmos such as What is my path and Where did the cosmos come from Accompanied by introductory materials and an extensive glossary each chapter includes learning objectives questions for discussion and suggested primary and secondary sources The categories of religion and philosophy are interrogated throughout Equipped with study tools and universal questions about the self and the cosmos Philosophies of Religion A Global and Critical Introduction shows you how to philosophize about religions around the world

We are a People in this World Conger Beasley,1995-01-01 In this compelling book the author alternately recounts the events and details of the 1890 massacre of the Lakota Sioux at Wounded Knee and his participation one hundred years later in the commemorative Big Foot Memorial Ride The counterpoint and contrast between the two events produces a powerful effect the oral accounts of the survivors of the slaughter are sometimes so brutal that the reader needs to be taken away if only into the cold and wind of a century later From the Sin-é Café to the Black Hills Eamonn Wall,1999 Eamonn Wall arrived in the United States in the 1980s as part of a wave of young educated immigrants who became known as the New Irish In this book he comments on his own experiences and those of his generation who identify as much with contemporary ethnic and immigrant America as they do with the long settled Irish American community Wall s starting point is the now closed Sin Caf in New York s East Village which was a hangout in the early 1990s for expatriate Irish musicians actors and writers He comments on the poetry fiction essays and memoirs of both the New Irish and Americans of Irish heritage locating them within a literary and historical context But this is also a deeply personal book in which Wall wrestles with his own identity as an Irishman living in America raising his children as Americans and learning to love the American landscape from the streets of Manhattan to the western hills of Nebraska I Remain Alive Ruth J. Heflin,2000-07-01 In I Remain Alive Ruth J Heflin explores the literary endeavors of five of the most prominent Native American writers from the turn of the century Charles Eastman Gertrude Bonnin Luther Standing Bear Nicholas Black Elk and Ella Deloria and challenges the traditional view of Native American literature It is widely accepted that the Native American Literary Renaissance began in 1968 with N Scott Momaday's House Made of Dawn With this book however Heflin shows that the Sioux embarked on their own literary renaissance beginning in 1890 with the articles of Eastman soon after the battle of Wounded Knee The Sioux nation produced more booklength manuscripts in this period between Wounded Knee and the end of World War II than any other tribe Moreover their writings were not just autobiographical as is typically thought but anthropological including fiction and nonfiction and highly stylized memoir No other transitional nation produced writers who wrote so extensively for the general American audience let alone so many works that incorporated both Native American and Western literary techniques Their stories helped shape the future of America its identity its developing appreciation of nature its acceptance of alternative religions and medical practices an awareness of the oral tradition and a sense of multiculturalism In this book Heflin seeks to place these writers alongside American and English modernist work and within mainstream literature

Killing the White Man's Indian Fergus M. Bordewich, 1997-04-14 In the face of a new lightly romanticized view of Native Americans Killing the White Man's Indian bravely confronts the current myths and often contradictory realities of tribal life today Following two centuries of broken treaties and virtual government extermination of the savage redmen Americans today have recast Native Americans into another equally stereotyped role that of eternal victims politically powerless and weakened by poverty and alcoholism yet whose spiritual ties with the natural world form our last best hope of salvaging our natural environment and ennobling our souls The truth however is neither as grim nor as blindly idealistic as many would expect The fact is that a virtual revolution is underway in Indian Country an upheaval of epic proportions For the first time in generations Indians are shaping their own destinies largely beyond the control of whites reinventing Indian education and justice exploiting the principle of tribal sovereignty in ways that empower tribal governments far beyond most American's imaginations While new found power has enriched tribal life and prospects and has made Native Americans fuller participants in the American dream it has brought tribal governments into direct conflict with local economics and the

Native American studies The Black Elk Reader will appeal to a general audience Approaching the World's Religions, Volume 1 Robert Boyd, 2017-05-04 Philosophically Thinking about World Religions is different from other works in the discipline today It deviates from the typical approaches used for the study of world religions Its goal is to engage readers in thinking hard about world religions not about the data surrounding those traditions By focusing on philosophical questions each reader should be challenged to do their own investigations that may reveal the heart of these traditions Another stance that this project takes that distinguishes it from other texts in the discipline is that it advocates an inclusivist perspective regarding the world religions Pluralism which is the predominate assumption today ends either in contradiction or in the development of a metatheory that dismisses crucial distinctions between the various traditions or eliminates some ancient religions because they do not fit the metatheory By taking an open inclusivist approach all religious traditions may engage at the table of dialogue The final essay is about justice and social affairs While that discussion is couched within the context of a particular tradition each religious tradition must have the discussion But it must be more than an intrareligious dialogue it must become an interreligious dialogue Speculation, Heresy, and Gnosis in Contemporary Philosophy of Religion Joshua Ramey, Matthew S. Haar Farris, 2016-10-12 Many in continental philosophy of religion aver that we are in a new moment one where the intellectually marginalized and religiously bastardized traditions of mystical intuitive and esoteric apprehensions must be re articulated and appreciated anew In an era marked by catastrophic events and atrophied cultural institutions what seems to be needed is an affirmation of the human potential to truck with non human or even inhuman forces and intentions at scales of speed slowness or intensity that break with consensual conceptions of human limitations The essays in this volume outline patterns of mind and mortality existence and ecstasy creativity and expression political possibility and religious matrix from a position that takes quite seriously possible relations with the absolute however enigmatic that modernity has denied and postmodernity has obscured in the name of academic skepticism and humanist reservations Beyond post modernist pastiche and post secular nostalgia these essays explore the potencies of archaic spiritual disciplines as well as the passions driving the mystical heretical and Gnostic intimations riddling contemporary relations with the absolute
