Trauma and the Teaching of Writing Shane Borrowman, 2012-02-01 Deepening and broadening our understanding of what it means to teach in times of trauma writing teachers analyze their own responses to national traumas ranging from the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor to the various appropriations of 9 11 Offering personal historical and cultural perspectives they question both the purposes and pedagogies of teaching writing Better Day Coming Adam Fairclough, 2002-06-25

From the end of postwar Reconstruction in the South to an analysis of the rise and fall of Black Power acclaimed historian Adam Fairclough presents a straightforward synthesis of the century long struggle of black Americans to achieve civil rights and equality in the United States Beginning with Ida B Wells and the campaign against lynching in the 1890s Fairclough chronicles the tradition of protest that led to the formation of the NAACP Booker T Washington and the strategy of accommodation Marcus Garvey and the push for black nationalism through to Martin Luther King Jr and the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s and beyond Throughout Fairclough presents a judicious interpretation of historical events that balances the achievements of the Civil Rights Movement against the persistence of racial and economic inequalities

Undaunted by the Fight Harry G. Lefever, 2005 Undaunted by the Fight is a study of small but dedicated group of Spelman College students and faculty who between 1957 and 1967 risked their lives compromised their grades and jeopardized their careers to make Atlanta and the South a more just and open society Lefever argues that the participation of Spelman s students and faculty in the Civil Rights Movement represented both a continuity and a break with the institution s earlier history On the one hand their actions were consistent with Spelman s long history of liberal arts and community service yet on the other hand as his research documents their actions represented a break with Spelman s traditional non political stance and challenged the assumption that social changes should occur only gradually and within established legal institutions For the first time in the eighty plus years of Spelman s existence the students and faculty who participated in the Movement took actions that directly challenged the injustices of the social and political status quo Too often in the past the Movement literature including the literature on the Atlanta Movement focused disproportionately on the males involved to the exclusion of the women who were equally involved and who in many instances initiated actions and provided leadership for the Movement Lefever concludes his study by saying that Spelman s activist students and faculty succeeded to the extent they did because they kept their eyes on the prize They endured the struggle he says and in so doing eventually won many prizes some personal others social Undaunted they liberated themselves but at the same time they liberated their school their city and the larger society

Sanctuaries of Segregation Carter Dalton Lyon, 2017-03-20 Winner of the 2017 Eudora Welty Prize Sanctuaries of Segregation provides the first comprehensive analysis of the Jackson Mississippi church visit campaign of 1963 1964 and the efforts by segregationists to protect one of their last refuges For ten months integrated groups of ministers and laypeople attempted to attend Sunday worship services at all white Protestant and Catholic churches in the state s capital city While the church visit was a common tactic of activists in the early 1960s Jackson remained the only city where groups mounted a sustained campaign targeting a wide variety of white churches Carter Dalton Lyon situates the visits within the context of the Jackson Movement compares the actions to church visits and kneel ins in other cities and places these encounters within controversies already underway over race inside churches and denominations He then traces the campaign from its inception in early June 1963 through Easter Sunday 1964 He highlights the motivations of the various people and organizations the interracial dialogue that took place on the church steps the divisions and turmoil the campaign generated within churches and denominations the decisions by individual congregations to exclude black visitors and the efforts by the state and the Citizens Council to thwart the integration attempts Sanctuaries of Segregation offers a unique perspective on those tumultuous years Though most churches blocked African American visitors and police stepped in to make forty arrests during the course of the campaign Lyon reveals many examples of white ministers and laypeople stepping forward to oppose segregation Their leadership and the constant pressure from activists seeking entrance into worship services made the churches of Jackson one of the front lines in the national struggle over civil rights

A Consumers' Republic Lizabeth Cohen, 2008-12-24 In this signal work of history Bancroft Prize winner and Pulitzer Prize finalist Lizabeth Cohen shows how the pursuit of prosperity after World War II fueled our pervasive consumer mentality and transformed American life Trumpeted as a means to promote the general welfare mass consumption quickly outgrew its economic objectives and became synonymous with patriotism social equality and the American Dream Material goods came to embody the promise of America and the power of consumers to purchase everything from vacuum cleaners to convertibles gave rise to the power of citizens to purchase political influence and effect social change Yet despite undeniable successes and unprecedented affluence mass consumption also fostered economic inequality and the fracturing of society along gender class and racial lines In charting the complex legacy of our Consumers Republic Lizabeth Cohen has written a bold encompassing and profoundly influential book

Gender Talk Johnnetta B. Cole, Beverly Guy-Sheftall, 2009-01-16 Why has the African American community remained silent about gender even as race has moved to the forefront of our nation s consciousness In this important new book two of the nation s leading African American intellectuals offer a resounding and far reaching answer to a question that has been ignored for far too long. Hard hitting and brilliant in its analysis of culture and sexual politics, Gender Talk asserts boldly that gender matters are critical to the Black community in the twenty first century. In the Black community, rape, violence against women and sexual harassment are as much the legacy of slavery as is racism. Johnnetta Betsch Cole and Beverly Guy Sheftall argue powerfully that the only way to defeat this legacy is to focus on the intersection of race and gender. Gender Talk examines why the race problem has become so male centered and how this has opened a deep divide between Black women and men. The authors turn to their own lives, offering intimate accounts of their experiences as daughters, wives and leaders. They examine pivotal moments in African American history when race and gender issues collided with explosive results: from the struggle for women's suffrage in the nineteenth century to women's attempts to gain a voice in the Black Baptist movement and on into the 1960s when the Civil Rights movement and the upsurge of Black Power transformed the Black community while sidelining women. Along the way they present the testimonies of a large and influential group of Black women and men, including bell hooks, Faye Wattleton, Byllye Avery, Cornell West, Robin DG Kelley, Michael Eric Dyson, Marcia Gillispie and Dorothy Height. Providing searching analysis into the present, Cole and Guy Sheftall uncover the cultural assumptions and attitudes in hip hop and rap in the O J Simpson and Mike Tyson trials, in the Million Men and Million Women Marches and in the battle over Clarence Thomas's appointment to the Supreme Court. Fearless and eye opening, Gender Talk is required reading for anyone concerned with the future of African American women and men.
