necessitated the creation of discrete African American vaudeville theaters. When these venues first gained popularity, ragtime coon songs were the standard fare. Insular black southern theaters provided a safe haven where coon songs underwent rehabilitation and blues songs suitable for the professional stage were formulated. The process was energized by dynamic interaction between the performers and their racially exclusive audience. The first blues star of black vaudeville was Butler String Beans May, a blackface comedian from Montgomery, Alabama. Before his bizarre, senseless death in 1917, String Beans was recognized as the blues master piano player of the world. His musical legacy, elusive and previously unacknowledged, is preserved in the repertoire of country blues singer-guitarists and pianists of the race recording era. While male blues singers remained tethered to the role of blackface comedian, female coon shouters acquired a more dignified aura in the emergent persona of the blues queen, Ma Rainey. Bessie Smith and most of her contemporaries came through this portal, while others such as forgotten blues heroine Ora Criswell and her protégé Trixie Smith ingeniously reconfigured the blackface mask for their own subversive purposes. In 1921, black vaudeville activity was effectively nationalized by the Theater Owners Booking Association (T.O.B.A.). In collaboration with the emergent race record industry, T.O.B.A. theaters featured touring companies headed by blues queens with records to sell. By this time, the blues had moved beyond the confines of entertainment for an exclusively black audience. Small-time black vaudeville became something it had never been before: a gateway to big-time white vaudeville circuits, burlesque wheels, and fancy metropolitan cabarets. While the 1920s was the most glamorous and remunerative period of vaudeville blues, the prior decade was arguably even more creative, having witnessed the emergence, popularization, and early development of the original blues on the African American vaudeville stage.

The Sharpshooter Blues Lewis Nordan, 1997-01-09 ALA Notable Book, Mississippi Arts and Letters Fiction Award. Lewis Nordan's remarkable third novel, THE SHARPSHOOTER BLUES, is in part a meditation on America's love affair with blue steel barrels and soft tip bullets, and in part a look at the violence and loss that ensue when the guns come out to play one day in a small town. Just as his award-winning WOF WHISTLE illuminated the complexity of racism, Nordan's new novel shines the brilliant flash of gunfire on love between fathers and sons, between husbands and wives, between gay lovers and between friends. At its heart is Hydro Raney, a boy who's never grown up, a boy who wouldn't hurt a soul. In THE SHARPSHOOTER BLUES, Nordan once again makes us laugh, then our helpless laughter turns first into weeping and then into wonder. A comedy at least half as divine and dark as Dante's own, a flat-out tour de force. Lee K. Abbott, Miami Herald. This is not just a good book; this is a marvelous book. The Village Voice.

Miami Blues Charles Willeford, 2009-08-19 After a brutal day investigating a quadruple homicide, Detective Hoke Moseley settles into his room at the unillustrious El Dorado Hotel and nurses a glass of brandy. With his guard down, he doesn't think twice when he hears a knock on the door. The next day he finds himself in the hospital, badly bruised and with his jaw wired shut. He thinks back over ten years of cases, wondering who would want to beat him into unconsciousness, steal his gun and badge, and most importantly, make off with his prized dentures. But the pieces never quite add up to revenge and the few clues he has keep connecting to a dimwitted hooker and her ex con boyfriend and the bizarre murder of a Hare Krishna pimp Chronically depressed constantly strapped for money always willing to bend the rules a bit Hoke Moseley is hardly what you think of as the perfect cop but he is one of the the greatest detective creations of all time
