Sugar Island Slavery In The Age Of Enlightenment:

Sugar Island Slavery in the Age of Enlightenment Arthur L. Stinchcombe, 1995-01-01 Sugar Island Slavery in the Age of Enlightenment Arthur L. Stinchcombe, 1995-12-11 Plantations especially sugar plantations created slave societies and a racism persisting well into post slavery periods so runs a familiar argument that has been used to explain the sweep of Caribbean history Here one of the most eminent scholars of modern social theory applies this assertion to a comparative study of most Caribbean islands from the time of the American Revolution to the Spanish American War Arthur Stinchcombe uses insights from his own much admired Economic Sociology to show why sugar planters needed the help of repressive governments for recruiting disciplined labor Demonstrating that island to island variations on this theme were a function of geography local political economy and relation to outside powers he scrutinizes Caribbean slavery and Caribbean emancipation movements in a world historical context Throughout the book Stinchcombe aims to develop a sociology of freedom that explains a number of complex phenomena such as how liberty for some individuals may restrict the liberty of others Thus the autonomous governments of colonies often produced more oppressive conditions for slaves than did so called arbitrary governments which had the power to restrict the whims of the planters Even after emancipation freedom was not a clear cut matter of achieving the ideals of the Enlightenment Indeed it was often a route to a social control more efficient than slavery providing greater flexibility for the planter class and posing less risk of violent rebellion The World of the Haitian Revolution David Patrick Geggus, Norman Fiering, 2009-01-21 These essays deepen our understanding of Haiti during the period from 1791 to 1815 They consider the colony s history and material culture as well as it free people of colour and the events leading up to the revolution and its violent unfolding Broken Scales Tom Diaz, 2021-10-15 Humans are a species that classifies We arrange the flow of the things and events that we see and experience place them into categories and erect boundaries around those categories Among the boundaries that we erect are those that we put around groups of other human beings The evil side of human classification of other human beings is that we sometimes create false categories of other people as is often the case in racial ethnic and religious stereotypes This unmindful creation of empty categories of human characteristics is what happened during two periods crucial to the construction of race in America This is racism The United States is in a period of deep cultural flux and conflict much of it seen through the lens of race Tom Diaz proposes that the everyday actions of ordinary people in the context of extreme political and cultural polarization distort the criminal justice system and betray the lofty ideals expressed in American founding documents and centuries of Anglo American articulations of basic human rights These everyday actions range across a spectrum from the armed intervention of private citizens in the forms of individual action neighborhood watches and citizen s arrests to the expectations imposed on law enforcement in particular and the criminal justice system in general An Archaeology of Social Space James A. Delle, 2013-06-29 James Delle has solved a number of problems in Caribbean archaeology with An Archaeology of Social

Space He deals with most of the problems by using historical archaeology and clearly implicates Americanist prehistorians Although this book is about coffee plantations in the Blue Mountains area of Jamaica it is actually about the whole Caribbean Just as it is about all archaeology not only historical archaeology it is also a book about colonialism and national independence and how these two enormous events happened in the context of eighteenth and nineteenth century capitalism The first issue raised appears to be an academic topic that has come to be known as landscape archaeology Landscape archaeology considers the planned spaces around living places The topic is big comprehensive and new within historical archaeology Its fundamental insight is that in the early modern and modern worlds everything within view could be made into money Seeing occurs in space and from 1450 or a little before everything that could be seen could potentially be measured The measuring and the accompanying culture of recording called a scriptural economy became a way of controlling people in space for a profit Dr Delle thus explores maps local philosophies of settlement town dwelling housing and the actual condition of plantations and their buildings now so as to describe coffee Jamaica from 1790 1860 Slave Families and the Hato Economy in Puerto Rico David M. Stark, 2017-05-24 Scholarship on slavery in the Caribbean frequently emphasizes sugar and tobacco production but this unique work illustrates the importance of the region's hato economy a combination of livestock ranching foodstuff cultivation and timber harvesting on the living patterns among slave communities David Stark makes use of extensive Catholic parish records to provide a comprehensive examination of slavery in Puerto Rico and across the Spanish Caribbean He reconstructs slave families to examine incidences of marriage as well as birth and death rates The results are never before analyzed details on how many enslaved Africans came to Puerto Rico where they came from and how their populations grew through natural increase Stark convincingly argues that when animal husbandry drove much of the island's economy slavery was less harsh than in better known plantation regimes geared toward crop cultivation Slaves in the hato economy experienced more favorable conditions for family formation relatively relaxed work regimes higher fertility rates and lower mortality rates Sugar Cane Capitalism and Environmental Transformation Marco G. Meniketti, 2015-12-15 Part I Theory and method The Caribbean defined and the scope of archaeology Method and theory Colonial settlement and emergent capitalism Part II Archaeology Nevis history 1627 1833 An archaeology of plantation industrialization Decline and adjustment 1782 1833 Part III Synthesis and conclusions Environmental change in capitalism's shadow Slavery, Freedom and Gender Brian L. Moore, B. W. Higman, 2003 This book is a collection of essays by several distinguished scholars which began as a series of lectures sponsored by the Department of History at the University of the West Indies Mona Jamaica to honour internationally recognized Caribbean historian Elsa Goveia The collection consists of 13 lectures delivered between 1987 to 1998 The book is divided into two broad sections In Slavery and Freedom which features critical research on slavery and post emancipation society and Gender Paradigms It will be particularly engaging to readers interested in Caribbean history social history and gender studies Globalizing Confederation Jacqueline D.

Krikorian, Marcel Martel, Adrian Shubert, 2017-01-01 In seeking to ascertain how others understood constructed or used Canada's Confederation in 1867 as a model to be adapted or avoided Globalizing Confederation explores the ideas and events that captured the imagination of people around the world Colonial America: An Encyclopedia of Social, Political, Cultural, and Economic History James Ciment, 2016-09-16 No era in American history has been more fascinating to Americans or more critical to the ultimate destiny of the United States than the colonial era Between the time that the first European settlers established a colony at Jamestown in 1607 through the signing of the Declaration of Independence the outlines of America's distinctive political culture economic system social life and cultural patterns had begun to emerge Designed to complement the high school American history curriculum as well as undergraduate survey courses Colonial America An Encyclopedia of Social Political Cultural and Economic History captures it all the people institutions ideas and events of the first three hundred years of American history While it focuses on the thirteen British colonies stretching along the Atlantic Colonial America sets this history in its larger contexts Entries also cover Canada the American Southwest and Mexico and the Caribbean and Atlantic world directly impacting the history of the thirteen colonies This encyclopedia explores the complete early history of what would become the United States including portraits of Native American life in the immediate pre contact period early Spanish exploration and the first settlements by Spanish French Dutch Swedish and English colonists This monumental five volume set brings America's colonial heritage vibrantly to life for today's readers It includes thematic essays on major issues and topics detailed A Z entries on hundreds of people institutions events and ideas thematic and regional chronologies hundreds of illustrations primary documents and a glossary and multiple indexes
