The New Order of the Oceans Giulio Pontecorvo,1986      Bringing New Law to Ocean Waters David D. Caron,Harry N. Scheiber,2004-09-01 In this volume leading scholars and jurists in ocean law provide perspectives on the past record of legal change together with analyses of a wide range of institutional and legal innovation that are needed to meet current challenges The topics that are addressed here include policy process and legal innovation in marine fisheries management institutional capacity and jurisdictional conflict in ocean law adjudication regionalism and multilateralism in their various aspects the challenges posed by the sudden recent availability of technological access to underwater cultural heritage compensation for war related environmental damage and the problems associated with access to marine genetic materials Bringing new law to ocean waters the quest to adjust the legal order of the oceans to changing realities a quest that has produced both great achievements and grievous failures has constituted one of the major developments in international law in the last half century      International Law and Ocean Use Management Lawrence Juda,2013-02-01 This book places contemporary problems of ocean use management in historical context beginning with the time of Hugo Grotius whose seminal 1609 work The Freedom of the Seas was the basis of ocean law for the next three centuries Individual use problems are dealt with in detail and include overfishing migrating fish stocks and fish wars oil drilling deep sea mining and marine pollution Throughout the author notes the need to seek solutions in ocean management from a more integrated perspective Emphasis is placed on the United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea and the resulting agreements This book therefore presents a unique breadth of view which will make it salient to policy makers diplomats scholars and ocean users

Pacific Ocean Boundary Problems Mark J. Valencia,2022-07-04      The American Role in the Global Economy Susan J. Whitson,1988      Beyond the Law of the Sea George V. Galdorisi,Kevin R. Vienna,1997-11-20 The 1982 U N Convention of the Law of the Sea took over a decade to produce and was the final result of the largest single international negotiating process undertaken before or since that time As the world s leading maritime nation the U S has vital immediate national interests in the Convention and in the continuing refinement of maritime law based upon the tenets of that comprehensive document The present work describes in detail the concurrent development of international law and the law of the sea the complex negotiating process that resulted in the completed Convention the role of the U S both during the Law of the Sea Convention and during the decade of negotiation that finally made the Convention acceptable and policy directions and issues for the U S in the post Convention environment This is an important new text in international law international relations and maritime affairs      Oceanic Abstracts ,1989      Global Ecopolitics Peter J. Stoett,2019-01-01 Despite sporadic news coverage of extreme weather events high level climate change diplomacy special UN days of celebration and popular media references to impending ecological collapse most students are not exposed to the detailed presentation and analysis of the international relations and diplomacy of environmental policy making Comprehensive and accessibly written for first year or second year undergraduates the second edition of Global Ecopolitics provides students with a panoramic view of the policymakers and the structuring bodies involved in the creation of environmental policies Detailing a considerable amount of environmental activity since its initial 2012 publication this up to date second edition uses an applicable framework of systemic analysis and important case studies that push students to form their own conclusions about past efforts present needs and future directions

Marine Scientific Research Florian Wegelein, 2005-06-01 The present analysis examines the legal framework for marine scientific research with a focus on research platforms Oceanographers find themselves faced with a complex set of provisions governing their activities not only in waters of foreign jurisdiction As the riches of the oceans have become known to decision makers in coastal States international action has set the course for an ever tighter regulation of the sea uses Part XIII is analysed with respect to the remaining freedoms of research In addition the book provides an overview of air and space law relevant to research activities and their relationship with the 1982 LOS Convention Other international instruments are analysed for their significance in the context of customary law Examination of possible safeguards for research activities contained in Part XIII and XV dispute settlement complements the legal analysis of the 1982 LOS Convention Mutual trust and co operation within regional organizations are in conclusion the most promising avenues for a more favourable research climate The book addresses a legal and scientific audience which at a practical or academic level deals with the law of the sea at large and the regime of marine scientific research in particular

The Greening of Sovereignty in World Politics Karen Litfin, 1998 This is the first book to connect two important subfields in international relations global environmental politics and the study of sovereignty the state s exclusive authority within its territorial boundaries The authors argue that the relationship between environmental practices and sovereignty is by no means straightforward and in fact elucidates some of the core issues and challenges in world politics today Although a number of international relations scholars have assumed that transnational environmental organizations and institutions are eroding sovereignty this book makes the case that ecological integrity and state sovereignty are not necessarily in opposition It shows that the norms of sovereignty are now shifting in the face of attempts to cope with ecological destruction but that this greening of sovereignty is an uneven variegated and highly contested process By establishing that sovereignty is a socially constructed institution that varies according to time and place with multiple meanings and changing practices The Greening of Sovereignty in World Politics illuminates the complexity of the relationship between sovereignty and environmental matters and casts both in a new light Contributors Daniel Deudney Margaret Scully Granzeier Joseph Henri Jupille Sheldon Kamieniecki Thom Kuehls Ronnie D Lipschutz Karen T Litfin Marian A L Miller Ronald B Mitchell Paul Wapner Veronica Ward Franke Wilmer
