The New Reckoning Capitalism States And Citizens:

The New Reckoning David Marquand, 2013-06-10 We are told that this is a new world with which old theories cannot cope But the dynamic driving the current global transformation is not as new as our pundits and politicians pretend The global market place of our day may have little in common with the tamed welfare capitalism of the post war period but it is uncannily reminiscent of the untamed capitalism of 100 years ago Keynes and Beveridge may be dead but Marx Malthus and Ricardo have had a new lease of life In these timely essays David Marquand challenges the fashionable amnesia of the 1990s and addresses the crucial questions raised by the capitalist renaissance which has followed the collapse of Communism and the end of the cold war In this bewildering new world which is at the same time an all too familiar old world how can the values of social solidarity and democratic citizenship be realized Granted that socialism is no longer with us does it have anything to say from beyond the grave How is socialism s great antagonist liberalism faring in this new world and what are the prospects of an accommodation between the two Where does the new medievalism of contemporary Europe fit in How do the special peculiarities of the British state the identity it embodies and the political economy over which it presides relate to those wider issues What room for maneuver do they give the British left These questions make up the agenda for The New Reckoning

Globalization, Development and Human Security Anthony G. McGrew, Nana K. Poku, 2007-02-12 Whether globalization development and human security are inescapably trapped within a vicious circle or a virtuous circle is the central concern of this book

Marketisation and Privatisation in Criminal Justice Kevin Albertson, Mary Corcoran, Jake Phillips, 2020-07-03 This collection offers a comprehensive review of the origins scale and breadth of the privatisation and marketisation revolution across the criminal justice system Leading academics and researchers assess the consequences of market driven criminal justice in a wide range of contexts from prison and probation to policing migrant detention rehabilitation and community programmes Using economic sociological and criminological perspectives illuminated by accessible case studies they consider the shifting roles and interactions of the public private and voluntary sectors As privatisation outsourcing and the impact of market cultures spread further across the system the authors look ahead to future developments and signpost the way to reform in a post market criminal justice sphere

Labours old and new Stephen Meredith, 2013-07-19 This study is concerned with the Old Labour right at a critical juncture of social democratic and Labour politics It attempts to understand the complex transition from so called Old Right to New Right or New Labour and locates at least some of the roots of the latter in the complexity tensions and fragmentation of the former during the lean years of social democracy in the 1970s The analysis addresses both the short and long term implications of the emerging ideological organisational and political complexity and divisions of the parliamentary Labour right and Labour revisionism previously concealed within the loosely adhesive post war framework of Keynesian reformist social democracy It establishes the extent to which New Labour is a legatee of at least some elements of the disparate and discordant Labour right and tensions of social democratic revisionism in the 1970s In so doing it advances our understanding of a key moment in the development of social democracy and the making of the contemporary British Labour Party

The Market or the Public Domain Daniel Drache,2005-07-08 Examining the powerful idea of the return reconstitution and redeployment of the public domain in a post Seattle and post Washington consensus world order this innovative book is the most forward looking and comprehensive examination of the need to rethink the tenants of global free trade In the past two decades countries have focused on broadening and guaranteeing market access and as the pendulum swings back for the market the issue of investing in the public domain becomes a priority The authors believe that devising new institutions of governance for a globalizing world requires fundamental change nationally and internationally They argue that new public spaces places and services are required to strengthen democracy and create sanctuaries in society where the market mechanism cannot reach The public domain is an incipient concept that enables states to reduce the intrusiveness of markets and at the same time develop a strong national performance to reduce the inequality and social exclusion in an increasingly volatile global economy This original volume boasts an impressive list of international contributors who have demonstrated innovation and leadership in their fields It will strongly appeal to advanced students academics and policy makers involved in the field of global governance and international political economy

Which Equalities Matter? Anne Phillips,2013-07-08 Democracy and democratization are now high on the political agenda but there is growing indifference to the gap between rich and poor Political equalities matter more than ever while economic inequality is accepted almost as a fact of life It is the separation between economic and political that lies at the heart of this book

Rethinking Empowerment Jane L. Parpart,Shirin M. Rai,Kathleen A. Staudt,2003-08-29 Rethinking Empowerment looks at the changing role of women in developing countries and calls for a new approach to empowerment An approach that adopts a more nuanced feminist interpretation of power and empowerment recognises that local empowerment is always embedded in regional national and global contexts pays attention to institutional structures and politics and acknowledges that empowerment is both a process and an outcome Moreover the book warns that an obsession with measurement rather than process can undermine efforts to foster transformative and empowering outcomes It concludes that power must be restored as the centrepiece of empowerment Only then will the term and its advocates provide meaningful ammunition for dealing with the challenges of an increasingly unequal and often sexist global local world

Social Exclusion and the Remaking of Social Networks Robert Strathee,2017-03-02 How do young people make effective transitions into work This question has occupied the minds of parents and young people and also researchers and policy makers as they face up to challenges presented by globalization and technological change The foremost governmental response to this challenge has been to expand training systems to improve young people s qualifications However it is clear that for many this response has failed to deliver the promised rewards and the legitimation of this strategy has been exhausted This book explores developments in training and in social welfare to show that third way administrations in England and New Zealand are reconnecting young people to the labour market through creating social networks Social Exclusion and the Remaking of Social Networks describes how networks are being remade by the state in commodified forms Health Reform Daniel Drache,Terry Sullivan,2005-08-18 This volume explores the deep rooted tensions between publicly funded health care systems and the dynamics of public markets to deliver privately financed health care
