Mockingbird Song Jack Temple Kirby, 2009-11-05 The American South is generally warmer wetter weedier snakier and more insect infested and disease prone than other regions of the country It is alluring to the scientifically and poetically minded alike With Mockingbird Song Jack Temple Kirby offers a personal and passionate recounting of the centuries old human nature relationship in the South Exhibiting violent cycles of growth abandonment dereliction resettlement and reconfiguration this relationship Kirby suggests has the sometimes melodious sometimes cacophonous vocalizations of the region s emblematic avian the mockingbird In a narrative voice marked by the intimacy and enthusiasm of a storyteller Kirby explores all of the South s peoples and their landscapes how humans have used yielded or manipulated varying environments and how they have treated forests water and animals Citing history literature and cinematic portrayals along the way Kirby also relates how southerners have thought about their part of Earth as a source of both sustenance and delight

A Song for Europe Robert Deam Tobin, 2017-07-05 The world s largest and longest running song competition the Eurovision Song Contest is a significant and extremely popular media event throughout the continent and abroad The Contest is broadcast live in over 30 countries with over 100 million viewers annually Established in 1956 as a televised spectacle to unify postwar Western Europe through music the Contest features singers who represent a participating nation with a new popular song Viewers vote by phone for their favourite performance though they cannot vote for their own country s entry This process alone reveals much about national identities and identifications as voting patterns expose deep seated alliances and animosities among participating countries Here an international group of scholars from a variety of disciplines including musicology communications history sociology English and German studies explore how the contest sheds light on issues of European politics national and European identity race gender and sexuality and the aesthetics of camp For some countries participation in Eurovision has been simultaneously an assertion of modernity and a claim to membership in Europe and the West Eurovision is sometimes regarded as a low brow camp spectacle of little aesthetic or intellectual value The essays in this collection often contradict this assumption demonstrating that the contest has actually been a significant force and forecaster for social cultural and political transformations in postwar Europe

Contested Waterscapes in the Mekong Region Francois Molle, Tira Foran, Mira Kakonen, 2012-05-04 The catchment area of the Mekong River and its tributaries extends from China through Burma Myanmar Thailand Laos Cambodia and to Vietnam The water resources of the Mekong region from the Irrawaddy and Nu Salween in the west across the Chao Phraya to the Lancang Mekong and Red River in the east are increasingly contested Governments companies and banks are driving new investments in roads dams diversions irrigation schemes navigation facilities power plants and other emblems of conventional development Their plans and interventions should provide some benefits but also pose multiple burdens and risks to millions of people dependent on wetlands floodplains and aquatic resources in particular the wild capture fisheries of rivers and lakes This book examines how large scale projects are being proposed justified and built How are such projects contested and how do specific governance regimes influence decision making The book also highlights the emergence of new actors rights and trade off debates and the social and environmental consequences of water resources development This book shows how diverse and often antagonistic ideologies and interests are contesting for legitimacy It argues that the distribution of decision making political and discursive power influences how the waterscapes of the region will ultimately look and how benefits costs and risks will be distributed These issues are crucial for the transformation of waterscapes and the prospects for democratizing water governance in the Mekong region The book is part of the action research of the M POWER Mekong
