Originally published in 1984 this was the first study to define and rationalise the character and functions of the plantation in the contemporary world The author Edgar Graham was uniquely placed to do this having had long experience of Unilever s plantations in West Africa Zaire Malaysia and the Pacific Writing as a pragmatist from observed fact his starting point was the fact that the modern plantation bears very little resemblance to that of the past on which most hostile accounts are still based Two changes altered the very nature of the issue First the 20th Century plantation existed within an economic framework controlled by independent governments Secondly the rapid development in technology has revolutionised most aspects of plantation production The result it is argued is that the modern plantation offers host governments the option of using this as the most efficient way of utilising available factors of production to provide a maximum social return Exemplified by case studies this study presents a powerful argument for the continue use of the plantation system when properly applied to a variety of tropical crops Making Of A Sugar Giant Philippe Chalmin,Erica E.
