New Saints in Late-Mediaeval Venice, 1200-1500 Karen E. McCluskey, 2019-10-08 This book focuses on the comparatively unknown cults of new saints in late mediaeval Venice These new saints were near contemporary citizens who were venerated by their compatriots without official sanction from the papacy In doing so the book uncovers a sub culture of religious expression that has been overlooked in previous scholarship The study highlights a myriad of hagiographical materials both visual and textual created to honour these new saints by members of four different Venetian communities The Republican government the monastic orders mostly Benedictine the mendicant orders and local parishes By scrutinising the hagiographic portraits described in painted vita panels written vitae passiones votive images sermons and sepulchre monuments as well as archival and historical resources the book identifies a specifically Venetian typology of sanctity tied to the idiosyncrasies of the city's site and history By focusing explicitly on local typological traits the book produces an intimate and complex portrait of Venetian society and offers a framework for exploring the lived religious experience of late mediaeval societies beyond the lagoon As a result it will be of keen interest to scholars of Venice lived religion hagiography mediaeval history and visual culture The Empress of Art Susan Jaques, 2016-04-15 A German princess who married a decadent and lazy Russian prince Catherine mobilized support amongst the Russian nobles playing off of her husband's increasing corruption and abuse of power She then staged a coup that ended with him being strangled with his own scarf in the halls of the palace and herself crowned the Empress of Russia Intelligent and determined Catherine modeled herself off of her grandfather in law Peter the Great and sought to further modernize and westernize Russia She believed that the best way to do this was through a ravenous acquisition of art which Catherine often used as a form of diplomacy with other powers throughout Europe She was a self proclaimed glutton for art and she would be responsible for the creation of the Hermitage one of the largest museums in the world second only to the Louvre Catherine also spearheaded the further expansion of St Petersburg and the magnificent architectural wonder the city became is largely her doing There are few women in history more fascinating than Catherine the Great and for the first time Susan Jaques brings her to life through the prism of art
