The Nile Development Game Mina Michel Samaa, 2018-12-30 This book introduces an analytic framework constructed upon the iterated Prisoners Dilemma game to model and analyze transboundary water interactions along the Nile River It presents a thorough and in depth analysis of the historical path through which conflict and cooperation have been generated among the Nile riparians over large scale developmental schemes This is done through modeling water interactions in the basin as an iterated Prisoners Dilemma game and employing process tracing method to compare four distinguishable rounds of the game the colonial round the Cold War round the post Cold War round and the post 2011 round The book examines the influences of the changing political contexts at the domestic regional and global levels on the game outcomes This framework is initially applied on several cases of international rivers worldwide while the rest of the book is devoted to the Nile case The book's central argument is that the riparians interests capabilities and beliefs are heterogeneous in varying degrees and that the changing multilevel political contexts influence the level of such heterogeneities among the riparians which ultimately drive the equilibrium dynamics in the Nile game to generate different conflictive and cooperative outcomes over time Although the book's main conclusion indicates that the absence of economic interdependence and regional integration will transfer the game into tug of war which will impose harsh punishment on the basin communities and ecosystems on the long term the final chapter lists a group of recommendations addressed to the riparian states and international donors exploring the way for boosting cooperation and preventing conflicts in the basin Presenting clear theoretical methodological and policy implications this book is appropriate for students and scholars of international relations hydrology and development studies

The Grand Ethiopian Renaissance Dam and the Nile Basin Zeray Yihdego, Alistair Rieu-Clarke, Ana Elisa Cascão, 2017-10-31 The Grand Ethiopian Renaissance Dam GERD will not only be Africa's largest dam but it is also essential for future cooperation and development in the Nile River Basin and East African region This book after setting out basin level legal and policy successes and failures of managing and sharing Nile waters articulates the opportunities and challenges surrounding the GERD through multiple disciplinary lenses It sets out its possibilities as a basis for a new era of cooperation its regional and global implications the benefits of cooperation and coordination in dam filling and the need for participatory and transparent decision making By applying law political science and hydrology to sharing water resources in general and to large scale dam building filling and operating in particular it offers concrete qualitative and quantitative options that are essential to promote cooperation and coordination in utilising and preserving Nile waters The book incorporates the economic dimension and draws on recent developments including the signing of a legally binding contract by Egypt Ethiopia and Sudan to carry out an impact assessment study the possibility that the GERD might be partially operational very soon the completion of transmission lines from GERD to Addis Ababa and the announcement of Sudan to commence construction of transmission lines from GERD to its main cities The implications of these are assessed and lessons learned for transboundary water cooperation and conflict management

Governing the Nile River Basin Mwangi Kimenyi, John Mbaku, 2015-02-12 The effective and efficient management of water is a major problem not just for economic growth and development in the Nile River basin but also for the peaceful coexistence of the millions of people who live in the region Of critical importance to the people of this part of Africa is the reasonable equitable and sustainable management of the waters of the Nile River and its tributaries Written by scholars trained in economics and law and with significant experience in African political economy this book explores new ways to deal with conflict over the allocation of the waters of the Nile River and its tributaries The monograph provides policymakers in the Nile River riparian states and other stakeholders with practical and effective policy options for dealing with what has become a very contentious problem the effective management of the waters of the Nile River The analysis is quite rigorous but also extremely accessible traverses ten countries in Africa Burundi the Democratic Republic of Congo DRC Egypt Eritrea Ethiopia Kenya Rwanda Sudan Tanzania and Uganda with South Sudan as the eleventh riparian state once it acquires its sovereignty Of the more than 300 million inhabitants in the ten riparian states the Nile River Basin is home to nearly 160 million people The interlocking controversies surrounding the utilisation of the waters of the Nile River and the resources therein have centered on the 1929 Anglo Egyptian and the 1959 Egypt Sudanese treaties which have largely ignored the interests of the upstream states Through the Nile Basin Initiative NBI established in 1999 the riparian states concluded in 2010 the Agreement on the River Nile Basin Cooperative Framework CFA based on the principle of equitable and reasonable utilisation the objective of which is to establish durable legal regime in the Nile River Basin This book addresses the complexities inherent in the colonial and post colonial treaties and agreements and their implications for the interests of the riparian states and the region in general It is the first book of its kind that covers the ten riparian states in a single volume and deals comprehensively with politico legal questions in the Nile River Basin as well as conventions on the international water courses and their relevance to the region

How this Happened: Demystifying the Nile Dereje Befekadu

Tessema,2023-02-07 Ethiopians had to wait over a thousand years to be able to use their waters for their own development Ethiopian emperors and leaders have tried to build a dam on the Nile River as part of their development efforts Unfortunately due to varying reasons and circumstances including external pressure from countries near and far geo and hydro political balance shifts and internal conflicts they were not successful in realizing their wishes Instead of giving up though each leader contributed to different extents by laying the foundation for and addressing challenges faced in making this dream a reality The masterplan for the dam designed in 1964 has been the seed in waiting ever since waiting for the right opportunity to arise for construction to start Following the decade long negotiation and an agreement on the equitable use of the Nile waters by most Nile riparian countries and the subsequent Cooperative Framework Agreement the Ethiopian government started the construction of the GERD in 2011 The waiting had finally ended It was time for the seed to grow Twelve years later the construction program is almost done The reservoir already holds billions of cubic meters of water and the country has produced power from the first two turbines as part of the early power generation milestone The seed has sprouted and the tree is on track to be the tallest in Africa In this six part book Dereje Befekadu Tessema discusses events that started thousands of years ago culminating in the construction of the Grand Ethiopian Renaissance Dam GERD He also shares a recount of his trip from the sources to the mouth of the Nile River
