Thomason, 1997-03-06 This book contributes to a more balanced view of the most dramatic results of language contact by presenting linguistic and historical sketches of lesser known contact languages The twelve case studies offer eloquent testimony against the still common view that all contact languages are pidgins and creoles with maximally simple and essentially identical grammars They show that some contact languages are neither pidgins nor creoles and that even pidgins and creoles can display considerable structural diversity and structural complexity they also show that two language contact situations can give rise to pidgins especially when access to a target language is withheld by its speakers The chapters are arranged according to language type three focus on pidgins Hiri Motu by Tom Dutton Pidgin Delaware by Ives Goddard and Ndyuka Trio Pidgin by George L. Hutter and Frank J. Velantje two on creoles Kituba by Salikoko S. Mufwene and Sango by Helma Pasch one on a set of pidgins and creoles Arabic based contact languages by Jonathan Owens one on the question of early pidginization and or creolization in Swahili by Derek Nurse and five on bilingual mixed languages Michif by Peter Bakker and Robert A. Papen Media Lengua and Callahuaya both by Pieter Muysken and Mednyj Aleut and Ma'a both by Sarah Thomason The authors collective goal is to help offset the traditional emphasis within contact language studies on pidgins and creoles that arose as an immediate result of contact with Europeans starting in the Age of Exploration The accumulation of case studies on a wide diversity of languages is needed to create a body of knowledge substantial enough to support robust generalizations about the nature and development of all types of contact language Approaches to Arabic Linguistics Everhard Ditters, Harald Motzki, 2007 This Liber Amicorum discusses topics on the history of Arabic grammar Arabic linguistics and Arabic dialects domains in which Kees Versteegh plays a leading role Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 1998
