Companion to Twentieth-Century Poetry Neil Roberts,2008-04-15 In the twentieth century more people spoke English and more people wrote poetry than in the whole of previous history and this Companion strives to make sense of this crowded poetical era The original contributions by leading international scholars and practising poets were written as the contributors adjusted to the idea that the possibilities of twentieth century poetry were exhausted and finite However the volume also looks forward to the poetry and readings that the new century will bring The Companion embraces the extraordinary development of poetry over the century in twenty English speaking countries a century which began with a bipolar transatlantic connection in modernism and ended with the decentred heterogeneity of post colonialism Representation of the canonical and the marginal is therefore balanced including the full integration of women poets and feminist approaches and the in depth treatment of post colonial poets from various national traditions Discussion of context intertextualities and formal approaches illustrates the increasing self consciousness and self reflexivity of the period whilst a Readings section offers new readings of key selected texts The volume as a whole offers critical and contextual coverage of the full range of English language poetry in the last century African Writers Bridgette Kasuka,2013-05 This work looks at some African writers including those who are not well known to show the potential and diversity in the works produced by Africans Included is a profile of Chinua Achebe and commentaries on his works soon after he passed away From Home and Exile Joanna Woods,2014-12-03 This book is about home With Malawi as its focus it seeks to understand ideas about home as expressed through poetry written by Malawians in English Although African Literatures are studied those of Malawi have not received agreeable attention This book surveys poetry by five Malawian writers Felix Mnthali Frank Chipasula Jack Mapanje Lupenga Mphande and Steve Chimombo The discussion negotiates scribed experience of exile engendered by Dr Bandas regime and shows that the selected poets effectively converse with a sense of home reflecting on its transformations in their work Interrogating the strict definitions of home the argument highlights that far from home less exiles in fact clarify the sense of what home is The manoeuvre is one of thinking towards an unboundaried home This book will be of value not only to readers interested in the cultures of Africa but to all those with an interest in worldwide literary phenomena and ideas therein of home and exile

Roscoe, 2008 Columbia s guides to postwar African literature paint a unique portrait of the continent s rich and diverse literary traditions This volume examines the rapid rise and growth of modern literature in the three postcolonial nations of Zimbabwe Malawi and Zambia It tracks the multiple political and economic pressures that have shaped Central African writing since the end of World War II and reveals its authors heroic efforts to keep their literary traditions alive in the face of extreme poverty and AIDS Adrian Roscoe begins with a list of key political events Since writers were composing within both colonial and postcolonial contexts he pays particular attention to the nature of British colonialism especially theories regarding its provenance and motivation Roscoe discusses such historical figures as David Livingstone Cecil Rhodes and Sir Harry Johnston as well as modern power players including Robert Mugabe Kenneth Kaunda and Kamuzu Banda He also addresses efforts to create a literary historical record from an African perspective an account that challenges white historiographies in which the colonized was neither agent nor informer A comprehensive alphabetical guide profiles both established and emerging authors and further illustrates issues raised in the introduction Roscoe then concludes with a detailed bibliography recommending additional reading and sources At the close of World War II the people of Central Africa found themselves mired in imperial fatigue and broken promises of freedom This fueled a desire for liberation and a major surge in literary production and in this illuminating guide Roscoe details the campaigns for social justice and political integrity for education and economic empowerment and for gender equity participatory democracy rural development and environmental care that characterized this exciting period of development

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive

These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods
