Constructing South East Europe Dimitar Bechev, 2011-03-15 Regional cooperation has become a distinctive feature of the Balkans, an area known for its turbulent politics. Exploring the origins and dynamics of this change, this book highlights the transformative power of the EU and other international actors.

Norms and Nannies Ronald Haly Linden, 2002 As the Central and East European states seek to join the European Union and NATO, they face challenging demands to adhere to specific European norms and standards. In this first comprehensive analysis, contributors examine how this process operates in a variety of domains including civil-military relations, social labor and regional relations, economic and information policies, and foreign policy. Each author considers what norms are generated by or absent from European international organizations, how they are communicated to prospective members, and most important, what impact they have had on the policies and actions of individual countries as well as on the region as a whole. These on-the-ground studies provide the empirical foundation needed to support theories of norm diffusion, constructivism, and liberalism in international relations and comparative politics alike.

Small States and Alliances Erich Reiter, Heinz Gärtnner, 2013-03-09 The book focuses on the relations between small states and alliances. It is on why, how, and under what conditions states engage in alliances. What are the benefits and costs of alliances? How are the benefits and costs of alliances allocated among their members? What determines who allies with whom? Can small states still pursue their own security interests within an alliance? Can they even become an integral part of an alliance? Scholars, practitioners, policy makers, and advisors from several countries discuss these issues. They address historical, empirical, and theoretical topics and give policy recommendations.

Yet in 1999 the two countries opened a dialogue on non-sensitive issues such as trade, the environment, and tourism. The causes of the current rapprochement progress are explored in this book in relation both to the international environment which is increasingly conducive to this progress and the significant domestic changes that both Greece and Turkey have experienced since the end of the Cold War. This book confronts each of these important dimensions by addressing issues of continuity and change in Greek-Turkish relations.
