Some Postcards from John Timothy Cross, Malcolm White, 2005-06-01 The postcards that John wrote to the churches of 2 and 3 John are packed full of useful instruction and exhortation John sent these postcards on ahead of hoped for and longed for face to face visits in 2 John to the elect lady and her children and in 3 John to the beloved Gaius Both churches had their problems The problem in the church of 2 John concerned deceiving deviants from outside the church men who will not acknowledge the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh whilst the problem addressed in 3 John was concerned mainly with a dreadful dictator from within the church Diotrephes who likes to put himself first does not acknowledge my authority These problem personalities from the first century will ring many present day bells with us in the twenty first century In John s postcards we encounter doctrine duty affirmation of truth and warning against error We meet love and discipline along with affection and sternness Overriding everything as everywhere in the Bible we glimpse something of the supernatural glory of God in contrast with the sinful humanity He sent His Own Son to save If you thought this was a book just to read then think again At the end of each chapter there is a set of thought provoking and stimulating questions each of which could be the subject of a Bible study group
