The Art Biz Alice Goldfarb Marquis, 1991 A behind the scenes look at the art world examines the interaction between collectors critics dealers galleries museums scholars and patrons Creative Industries Richard E. Caves, 2002-04-30 Drawing on industrial economics and contract theory Caves explores the organization of creative industries including visual and performing arts movies theater sound recordings and book publishing In each artistic inputs are combined with humdrum inputs But Caves finds the deals bringing these inputs together are inherently problematic Collectible Investments for the High Net Worth Investor Stephen Satchell, 2009-07-07 Many high net worth individuals are interested in diversifying their portfolios and investing in collectibles A collectible is any physical asset that appreciates in value over time because it is rare or desired by many Stamps coins fine art antiques books and wine are examples of collectibles Where does the financial advisor or investment manager for these high net worth individuals go to learn about these investments There is no comprehensive resource from the financial standpoint until now Dr Stephen Satchell of Trinity College Cambridge has developed a book in which experts in various types of collectibles analyze the financial aspects of investing in these collectibles Chapters address issues such as liquidity challenges tax ramifications appreciation timelines the challenge of forecasting and measuring appreciation and the psychological component of collecting and the role of emotion in collectible investing Key Features Feature Contributors are experts in collectible investing from around the world Benefit Gives financial advisors and wealth managers handy access to expert opinions to better advise clients interested in collectible investments Feature Experts discuss the pros and cons of collectibles from an investment perspective in their area of expertise Benefit One stop shopping all expertise brought together in one volume creating a handy reference guide Feature Experts discuss art stamps coins antiques wine from around the world in one global perspective Benefit Wealth managers can gain information about a wide range of collectibles and learn about investing in these types with a global perspective The Rise and Fall of American Art, 1940s-1980s Catherine Dossin, 2016-03-03 In The Rise and Fall of American Art 1940s 1980s Catherine Dossin challenges the now mythic perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition Dossin reconstructs the concrete factors that led to the shift of international attention from Paris to New York in the 1950s and documents how peripheries such as Italy Belgium and West Germany exerted a decisive influence on this displacement of power As the US economy sank into recession in the 1970s however American artists and dealers became increasingly dependent on the support of Western Europeans and cities like Cologne and Turin emerged as major commercial and artistic hubs a development that enabled European artists to return to the forefront of the international art scene in the 1980s Dossin analyses in detail these changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors Her

Collecting the Now Michael Maizels, 2022-08-09 Collecting the Now offers a new in depth look at the economic forces and institutional actors that have shaped the outlines of postwar art history with a particular focus on American art 1960 1990 Working through four case studies Michael Maizels illuminates how a set of dealers and patrons conditioned the iconic developments of this period the profusions of pop art the quixotic impossibility of land art the dissemination of new media and the speculation fueled neo expressionist painting of the 1980s This book addresses a question of pivotal importance to a swath of art history that has already received substantial scholarly investigation We now have a clear nuanced understanding of why certain evolutions took place why pop artists exploded the delimited parameters of aesthetic modernism why land artists further strove against the object form itself and why artists returned to neo traditional painting in the 1980s But remarkably elided by extant scholarship has been the question of how How did conditions coalesce around pop so that its artists entered into museum collections and scholarly analyses at pace unprecedented in the prior history of art How when seeking to transcend the delimited gallery object were land artists able to create monumental and by extension monumentally expensive interventions in the extreme wilds of the Western deserts And how did the esoteric objects of media art come eventually to scholarly attention in the sustained absence of academic interest or a private market The answers to these questions lie in an exploration of the financial conditions and funding mechanisms through which these works were created advertised distributed and preserved

The Jean Freeman Gallery Does Not Exist Christopher Howard, 2019-03-01 An examination of a 1970s Conceptual art project advertisements for fictional shows by fictional artists in a fictional gallery that hoodwinked the New York art world From the summer of 1970 to March 1971 advertisements appeared in four leading art magazines Artforum Art in America Arts Magazine and ARTnews for a group show and six solo exhibitions at the Jean Freeman Gallery at 26 West Fifty Seventh Street in the heart of Manhattan s gallery district As gallery goers soon discovered this address did not exist the street numbers went from 16 to 20 to 24 to 28 and neither did the art supposedly exhibited there The ads were promoting fictional shows by fictional artists in a fictional gallery The scheme eventually exposed by a New York Times reporter was concocted by the artist Terry Fugate Wilcox as both work of art and critique of the art world In this book Christopher Howard brings this forgotten Conceptual art project back into view Howard demonstrates that Fugate Wilcox s project was an exceptionally clever embodiment of many important aspects of Conceptualism incisively synthesizing the major aesthetic issues of its time documentation and dematerialization serialism and process text and image publishing and publicity He puts the Jean Freeman Gallery in the context of other magazine based work by Mel Bochner Judy Chicago Yoko Ono and Ed Ruscha and compares the fictional artists projects with actual Earthworks by Walter De Maria Peter Hutchinson Dennis Oppenheim and more Despite the deadpan perfection of the Jean Freeman Gallery project the art establishment marginalized its creator and the project itself was virtually erased from art history Howard corrects these omissions drawing on deep archival research personal interviews and investigation of fine printed clues to shed new light on a New York art world mystery
