

W E B Dubois's Double Consciousness Theory

The Dilemma Of Double Consciousness

Erica R. Edwards, Roderick A.
Ferguson, Jeffrey O.G. Ogbar

The Dilemma Of Double Consciousness:

The Dilemma of "double-consciousness" Denise Heinze, 1993 Morrison is a mythbasher says Heinze but she is also a mythmaker whose ontology finds its meaning in nature primitivism the past and the supernatural Central to understanding Morrison's challenge to traditional values Heinze argues is W E B Du Bois's notion of double consciousness the condition in which a person is representative of and immersed in two distinct ways of life Heinze also draws on Henry Louis Gates Jr's notion of the symbiotic relationship that Morrison as an African American writer shares with white writers Morrison's position as part of the literary establishment and as part of minority culture in America grants her two perspectives both of which inform her work She successfully incorporates these perspectives Heinze contends by appropriating conventional literary forms to render artistically the story of black experience inside white culture

Communities of Cultural Value

Philip Goldstein, 2001-01-01 Philip Goldstein is fast establishing himself as the doyen of reception study a discipline that assumes that the reader's interpretive practices explain a text's import In his latest work Communities of Cultural Value Goldstein delves again into the realm of literary criticism painting an absorbing picture of the changing nature of a growing more diversified readership and its challenge to professional literary study Goldstein's PostMarxist approach investigates how interpretive communities govern the reader's practices through lucid case studies that analyze the reception of texts and authors ranging from Jane Austen to John Le Carré Communities of Cultural Values is an important addition to the continuing debate over art's aesthetic autonomy and the role of literary criticism in the 1990s and it will be most valuable to readers seeking to chart the changing socio historical condition of literary study

Toni Morrison

Jill L. Matus, 1998-09-15 This is an illuminating and original introduction to Toni Morrison's fiction focusing on its engagement with African American history and the way the traumas of the collective past shape Morrison's work Jill Matus approaches Morrison's fiction as a form of cultural memory concerned with obscured or erased history She argues that Morrison sees African American history from the times of slavery to the continued racial oppressions of the twentieth century as a history of traumatic experience and explores how this powerful storyteller bears witness to a painful yet richly enlivening past Morrison's novels are known for their great lyric power but they often dwell on scenes of horror and Matus emphasizes the uneasy relations of memory pain and pleasure in literature In doing so she sheds new light on Morrison as a contemporary writer working at a time when literature is being urgently explored for its capacity to memorialize and testify Direct and accessible this critical study highlights the political and historical contexts of Morrison's work offers close readings of each of the novels and concludes with a critical overview of the field of Morrison studies

Critical Companion to Toni Morrison

Carmen Gillespie, 2007 Toni Morrison winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1993 is perhaps the most important living American author This work examines Morrison's life and writing featuring critical analyses of her work and themes as well as entries on related topics and relevant people places and influences

Sacred Femininity and the Politics of Affect in African American

Women's Fiction Vicent Cucarella Ramón, 2018-10-25 This book presents the way in which African American women writers Hannah Crafts Zora Neale Hurston and Toni Morrison have followed the spiritual endeavor of black Christianity as created by early nineteenth century spiritual narratives to construct a sacred reading of the black female self The sacred femininity that puts the ethics and aesthetics of African American women at the center of a certain mode of African Americanness relies on a view of spirituality that joins women ontologically and validates affective modes of representation as an innovative means to obtain social and personal empowerment

Writing the Black Revolutionary Diva Kimberly Nichele Brown, 2010-09-09 Kimberly Nichele Brown examines how African American women since the 1970s have found ways to move beyond the double consciousness of the colonized text to develop a healthy subjectivity that attempts to disassociate black subjectivity from its connection to white culture Brown traces the emergence of this new consciousness from its roots in the Black Aesthetic Movement through important milestones such as the anthology The Black Woman and Essence magazine to the writings of Angela Davis Toni Cade Bambara and Jayne Cortez

An Analysis of W.E.B. Du Bois's The Souls of Black Folk Jason Xidias, 2017-07-05 W E B Du Bois The Souls of Black Folk is a seminal work in the field of sociology a classic of American literature and a solid example of carefully structured reasoning One of the most important texts ever written on racism and black identity in America the work contains powerful arguments that illustrate the problem of the position of black people in the US at the turn of the 20th century Du Bois identified three significant issues the color line double consciousness and the veil that acted as roadblocks to true black emancipation and showed how each of these in turn contributed to the problem of inequality Du Bois carefully investigates all three problems constructing clear explanations of their significance in shaping the consciousness of a community that has been systematically discriminated against and dealing brilliantly with counter arguments throughout The Souls of Black Folk went on to profoundly influence the civil rights movement in the US inspiring post colonial thinking worldwide

Keywords for African American Studies Erica R. Edwards, Roderick A. Ferguson, Jeffrey O.G. Ogbar, 2018-11-27 Introduces key terms interdisciplinary research debates and histories for African American Studies As the longest standing interdisciplinary field African American Studies has laid the foundation for critically analyzing issues of race ethnicity and culture within the academy and beyond This volume assembles the keywords of this field for the first time exploring not only the history of those categories but their continued relevance in the contemporary moment Taking up a vast array of issues such as slavery colonialism prison expansion sexuality gender feminism war and popular culture Keywords for African American Studies showcases the startling breadth that characterizes the field Featuring an august group of contributors across the social sciences and the humanities the keywords assembled within the pages of this volume exemplify the depth and range of scholarly inquiry into Black life in the United States Connecting lineages of Black knowledge production to contemporary considerations of race gender class and sexuality Keywords for African American Studies provides a model for how the scholarship of the field can meet the challenges of our social world Encyclopedia of African American History Leslie M. Alexander, Walter C. Rucker, 2010-02-09 A fresh compilation of essays and entries based on the latest research this work documents African American culture and political activism from the slavery era through the 20th century Encyclopedia of African American History introduces readers to the significant people events sociopolitical movements and ideas that have shaped African American life from earliest contact between African peoples and Europeans through the late 20th century This encyclopedia places the African American experience in the context of the entire African diaspora with entries organized in sections on African European contact and enslavement culture resistance and identity during enslavement political activism from the Revolutionary War to Southern emancipation political activism from Reconstruction to the modern Civil Rights movement black nationalism and urbanization and Pan Africanism and contemporary black America Based on the latest scholarship and engagingly written there is no better go to reference for exploring the history of African Americans and their distinctive impact on American society politics business literature art food clothing music language and technology Contemporary Patterns of Politics, Praxis, and Culture Georgia A. Persons, 2017-07-12 The National Political Science Review is the official publication of the National Conference of Black Political Scientists This new volume Contemporary Patterns of Politics Praxis and Culture reflects major research focuses across religion race gender culture and of course politics Themes that engage a community of scholars also engage them in praxis as individual citizens and practitioners in a democratic society and collectively as member participants in a changing culture Two themes religion and culture are relatively new areas of intellectual curiosity for political scientists Articles in this volume extend the beachheads already established by African American political scientists in studies that gauge the significance and influence of religion in both individual and group behavior They chart religion s inevitable move onto the center stage of U S public affairs The study of culture has essentially languished for almost a generation within political science especially with regard to the study of American politics and society During this time the emphasis has also shifted significantly from an almost exclusive focus on civic culture to an expanding focus on the broad expanse of popular culture in the contemporary period Culture is the crucible within which politics race religion and gender both foment and ferment and artistic products of the culture are manifestations and mirrors of how we envision and construct a changing reality Issues of race religion gender and culture are all dimensions of individual and group identity The dynamics of changing individual and group identities change the underlying cultural canvas against which identity is displayed and politics is acted out The concept of praxis is relatively new to the lexicon of political science However engagement in the practice of politics is not a new idea for African American social scientists Indeed particularly for this group and clearly for many others
