The Haunted Self Surrealism Psychoanalysis Subjectivity:

The Haunted Self David Lomas, 2000-01-01 The question Who am I resounded throughout the surrealist movement The exploration of dreams and the unconscious prompted surrealists to reject the notion of a unified indivisible self by revealing the subject to be haunted by otherness and instability In this book David Lomas explores the surrealist concepts of the self and subjectivity from a psychoanalytic viewpoint Employing a series of case studies devoted to individual artists Lomas arrives at a radically new account of surrealist art and its cultural and intellectual roots Weaving together psychoanalytic and historical material the author analyses works by Ernst Dali Masson Miro and Picasso with regard to such themes as automatism hysteria the uncanny and the abject Lomas focuses closely on individual artworks examines the specific circumstances in which they were produced and offers new insights into the artists and their projects as well as the theories of Bataille Breton and others Lomas demonstrates the powerful connection between the history of psychoanalysis and the history of surrealism and along the way shows the unique value of psychoanalytic theory as a tool for the art historian BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Haunted Self David Colin Lomas, 1997 The Haunted Self David Lomas, 1997 The Oulipo and Modern Thought Dennis Duncan, 2019-07-08 The impact of the Oulipo Ouvroir de Litterature Potentielle one of the most important groups of experimental writers of the late twentieth century is still being felt in contemporary literature criticism and theory both in Europe and the US Founded in 1960 and still active today this Parisian literary workshop has featured among its members such notable writers as Italo Calvino Georges Perec and Raymond Queneau all sharing in its light hearted slightly boozy bonhomie the convivial antithesis of the fractious volatile coteries of the early twentieth century avant garde For the last fifty years the Oulipo has undertaken the same simple goal to investigate the potential of constraints in the production of literature that is formal procedures such as anagrams acrostics lipograms texts which exclude a certain letter and other strange and complex devices Yet far from being mere parlour games these methods have been frequently used as part of a passionate though sometimes satirical involvement with the major intellectual currents of the mid twentieth century Structuralism psychoanalysis Surrealism analytic philosophy all come under discussion in the group s meetings and all find their way in the group s exercises in ways that while often ironic are also highly informed Using meeting minutes correspondence and other material from the Oulipo archive at the Bibliotheque nationale de France The Oulipo and Modern Thought shows how the group have used constrained writing as means of puckish engagement with the debates of their peers and how as the broader intellectual landscape altered so too would the group s conception of what constrained writing can achieve Death of the Artist Nicola McCartney, 2018-07-30 There exists a series of contemporary artists who continually defy the traditional role of the artist author including Art Language Guerrilla Girls Bob and Roberta Smith Marvin Gaye Chetwynd and Lucky PDF In Death of the Artist Nicola McCartney explores their work and uses previously unpublished interviews to provoke a vital and nuanced discussion about contemporary artistic authorship How do emerging artists navigate intellectual property or work collectively and share the recognition How might a pseudonym aid activism Most strikingly she demonstrates how an alternative identity can challenge the art market and is symptomatic of greater cultural and political rebellion As such this book exposes the art world's financially incentivised infrastructures but also examines how they might be reshaped from within In an age of cuts to arts funding and forced self promotion this offers an important analysis of the pressing need for the artistic community to construct new ways to reinvent itself and incite fresh responses to its work

J.G. Ballard's Surrealist Imagination Jeannette Baxter, 2016-12-05 Making the case that J G Ballard's fictional and non-fictional writings must be read within the framework of Surrealism Jeannette Baxter argues for a radical revisioning of Ballard that takes account of the political and ethical dimensions of his work Ballard's appropriation of diverse Surrealist aesthetic forms and political writings Baxter suggests are mobilised to contest official narratives of postwar history and culture and offer a series of counter historical and counter cultural critiques Thus Ballard's work must be understood as an exercise in Surrealist historiography that is politically and ethically engaged Placing Ballard's illustrated texts within this critical framework permits Baxter to explore the effects of photographs drawings and other visual symbols on the reading experience and the production of meaning Ballard's textual spectacles raise a variety of questions about the shifting role of the reader and the function of the written text within a predominantly visual culture while acknowledging the visual contexts of Ballard's Surrealist writings allows a very different historical picture of the author and his work to emerge

"Appropriated Photographs in French Surrealist Periodicals, 1924-1939" Linda Steer, 2017-07-05 The first monograph to analyze the Surrealist gesture of photographic appropriation this study examines found photographs in three French Surrealist reviews published in the 1920s and 1930s La Révolution surréaliste edited by André Breton Documents edited by Georges Bataille and Minotaure edited by Breton and others The book asks general questions about the production and deployment of meaning through photographs but addresses more specifically the construction of a Surrealist practice of photography through the gesture of borrowing and re-contextualization and reveals something crucial both about Surrealist strategies and about the way photographs operate The book is structured around four case studies including scientific photographs of an hysteric in Charcot's clinic at the Salpêtrière hospital positioned as poetry rather than pathology and one of the first crime scene photographs depicting Jack the Ripper's last victim radically transformed into a work of art Linda Steer traces the trajectory of the found photographs from their first location to their location in a Surrealist periodical Her study shows that the act of removal and re-framing highlights the instability and mutability of photographic meaning an instability and mutability that has consequences for our understanding both of photography and of Surrealism in the 1920s and 1930s

Photography and September 11th Jennifer Good,2020-09-13 It is all but impossible to think of September 11th 2001 and not at the same time recall an image The overwhelmingly visual coverage in the world s media pictured a spectacle of terror from images of the collapsing towers to injured victims and fatigued firefighters In the days weeks and months that followed this vast collection of photographs continued to circulate relentlessly This book investigates the psychological impact of those photographs on a stunned American audience Drawing on trauma theory this book asks whether the prolonged exposure of audience to photographs was cathartic or damaging It explores how first the collective memory of the event was established in the American psyche and then argues that through repetitive use of the most powerful pictures the culture industry created a dangerously simple 9 11 metanarrative At the same time people began to reclaim and use photography to process their own feelings most significantly in communities of photographic memorial websites Such exercises were widely perceived as democratic and an aid to recovery This book interrogates that assumption providing a new understanding of how audiences see and process news photography in times of crisis Towards a History of Consciousness Vwadek P. Insane Passions Christine Coffman, 2006-12-12 In France in 1933 two sisters presumed to be lovers murdered the women who employed them as maids Known as the Papin affair the incident inspired not only Jean Genet's 1947 The Maids but also an essay by Jacques Lacan that presents the sisters' crime as fueled by a narcissistic homosexual drive that culminated in the assault In this new investigation of the roots of the twentieth-century myth of the lesbian as madwoman Christine Coffman argues that the female psychotic was the privileged object of Lacan's effort to derive a revolutionary theory of subjectivity from the study of mental illness Examining Lacan's early writings French surrealism Djuna Barnes' Nightwood and H.D.'s homoerotic fiction in light of feminist and queer theory Insane Passions argues that the psychotic woman that fascinates modernist writers returns with a murderous vengeance in a number of late twentieth-century films including Basic Instinct Sister My Sister Single White Female and Murderous Maids Marking the limit of social acceptability the psychotic lesbian repeatedly appears as the screen onto which the violence and madness of twentieth-century life are projected
