Heart Reader Michelle Dorsey,2019-09-24 Contained within the pages of this intriguing book are the chilling realities and revelations of the many warning signs women have missed in their relationships And no one has talked about it Addressing these elusive issues faced by women this book shows how deep heart wounds or heart wrenching traumas can be overcome The Heart Reader The One Who reads hearts is God Not a person But sometimes a person will think they know best who you should be with or not Often they do not seek Him before telling you a particular person cannot possibly love you Why would that person love you they say In essence because they do not know what The Heart Reader knows they underestimate who God created you to be and what you were created to do in your future It would be different if they actually knew what they were talking about So when it comes to motives understand this What people try to conceal The Heart Reader will reveal

The Heart of Time Sabina Knight,2020-03-23 By examining how narrative strategies reinforce or contest deterministic paradigms this work describes modern Chinese fiction's unique contribution to ethical and literary debates over the possibility for meaningful moral action How does Chinese fiction express the desire for freedom as well as fears of attendant responsibilities and abuses How does it depict struggles for and against freedom How do the texts allow for or deny the possibility of freedom and agency By analyzing discourses of agency and fatalism and the ethical import of narrative structures the author explores how representations of determinism and moral responsibility changed over the twentieth century She links these changes to representations of time and to enduring commitments to human heartedness and social justice Although Chinese fiction may contain some of the most disconsolate pages in the twentieth century's long literature of disenchantment it also bespeaks Knight argues a passion for freedom and moral responsibility Responding to ongoing conflicts between the claims of modernity and the resources of past traditions these stories and novels are often dominated by challenges to human agency Yet read with sensitivity to traditional Chinese conceptions of moral experience their testimony to both the promises of freedom and the failure of such promises opens new perspectives on moral agency The Language of the Heart, 1600-1750 Robert A. Morley Ernstein of the Tenants of the Heart George Payne Rainsford James, 1842 The Heart of Biblical Narrative Karl Allen Kuhn, Modern biblical scholarship has long been preoccupied with the relationship between history and doctrine Karl A Kuhn argues that an overly rational approach to the thought of the biblical authors misses the equally important but long neglected affective dimension of biblical narrative In Part I of The Heart of Biblical Narrative Kuhn presents an approach to the Bible that applies affective analysis to get at a cardiography of biblical narrative Biblical narrative in both Israel's scripture and the New Testament is understood fundamentally as an attempt to persuade and move the reader not simply to convince the reader of certain truths In Part II Kuhn's close reading of the opening chapters of Luke's Gospel shows how biblical authors employed pathos as a way of drawing readers into their narrative and thereby their understanding of reality
