The Distaff Factor

John William Wainwright

The Distaff Factor:

The Distaff Factor John Wainwright, 1985-06 Dark Places and Little Tramps Juri Nummelin, 2025-05-15 Dark Places and Little Tramps collects Juri Nummelin's writings on noir hardboiled sleaze and other literary genres of yesteryear. The author has written extensively about genre fiction and popular culture for more than four decades but this new volume is the first publication of his writings in English. Among many other subjects it features a lengthy section on neo noir and writers like Gillian Flynn, Allan Guthrie, Jason Starr, and Duane Swierczynski. He also investigates British spy and crime fiction and includes chapters on western and horror. Nummelin shines new light on many of these areas such as the largely forgotten topic of sleaze paperbacks.

The Distaff Factor John William Wainwright, 1982-01-01 Kevlar Legions: The Transformation of the United States Army 1989-2005 John Sloan Brown, 2012-08-12 This is the story of how the United States Army responded to the challenges of the end of the Cold War by transforming itself into the most capable ground force in the world today. It argues that from 1989 through 2005 the U.S. Army attempted and largely achieved a centrally directed and institutionally driven transformation relevant to ground warfare that exploited Information Age technology adapted to post-Cold War strategic circumstances and integrated into parallel Department of Defense efforts. The process not only modernized equipment but also substantially altered doctrine, organization, training, administrative and logistical practices, and the service culture. Kevlar Legions further contends that the digitized expeditionary Army has withstood the test of combat, performing superbly with respect to deployment and high-end conventional combat and capably with respect to low-intensity conflict and the counterinsurgency challenges of Iraq and Afghanistan.

What Makes Olga Run? Bruce Grierson, 2014-01-14 A fascinating look at the way we age today and the extent to which we can shape the process. In What Makes Olga Run, Bruce Grierson explores what the wild success of a ninety-four-year-old track star can tell us about how our bodies and minds age. Olga Kotelko is not your average ninety-four-year-old. She not only looks and acts like a much younger woman, she holds over twenty-three world records in track and field, seventeen in her current ninety-to-ninety-five category. Convinced that this remarkable woman could help unlock many of the mysteries of aging, Grierson set out to uncover what it is that's driving Olga. He considers every piece of the puzzle, from her diet and sleep habits to how she scores on various personality traits, from what she does in her spare time to her family history. Olga participates in tests administered by some of the world's leading scientists and offers her DNA to groundbreaking research trials. What emerges is not only a tremendously uplifting personal story but a look at the extent to which our health and longevity are determined by the DNA we inherit at birth and the extent to which we can shape that inheritance. It examines the sum of our genes, opportunities, and choices and the factors that forge the course of any life, especially during our golden years.
