Anderson, 2008-07 This non academic author presents his key to opening James Joyce s famously difficult and endlessly playful novel Finnegans Wake The key was fashioned in Kabbalah an ancient Jewish mystical tradition that as interpreted by Joyce champions independent individualism as the path to the highest spirituality Kabbalah images a universe excreted by the ultimate god a universe that is necessarily finite and limited that came with its own secondary god that is finite and limited the god presented in Genesis that issues blessing and curses designed to make mankind fearful and dependent the curse of Kabbalah Joyce laid this curse in his dream like Book of the Night in the elastic way that the latent or hidden content of a dream distorts the presentation of dream materials Acting like a black hole this curse pressures the main character Harold Chimpden Earwicker to fall to become fearful and dependent just like everyone else that is reduced to the mere initials HCE for Here Comes Everybody Joyce traces this curse from the myths in Genesis to the primal horde the first social organization of humans to the Oedipal

Complex and to nation state warfare such as the Battle of Waterloo In a groundbreaking presentation Anderson deciphers word by word the first two chapters and part of the last chapter to show how this key opens the lock He shows for example how the joined ending and beginning of Joyce s wisdom book form the Hebrew word for curse and the ending shows confrontation rather than repression of fear of death as the key to life to your own wake Druidry for Beginners Alfreda J. the Stoics and the Druids to modern feminists and deep ecologists the pagan philosophers examined these three immensities with systematic critical reason and sometimes with poetry and mystical vision This book tells their story for the first time in one volume and invites you to examine the immensities with them And as a special feature the book includes summaries of the ideas of leading modern pagan intellectuals in their own words Emma Restall Orr Michael York John Michael Greer Vivianne Crowley and more

The Philosopher and the Druids Philip Freeman, 2006-03-01 Early in the first century B C a Greek philosopher named Posidonius began an ambitious and dangerous journey into the little known lands of the Celts A man of great intellectual curiosity and considerable daring Posidonius traveled from his home on the island of Rhodes to Rome the capital of the expanding empire that had begun to dominate the Mediterranean From there Posidonius planned to investigate for himself the mysterious Celts reputed to be cannibals and savages His journey would be one of the great adventures of the ancient world Posidonius journeyed deep into the heart of the Celtic lands in Gaul There he discovered that the Celts were not barbarians but a sophisticated people who studied the stars composed beautiful poetry and venerated a priestly caste known as the Druids Celtic warriors painted their bodies wore pants and decapitated their foes Posidonius was amazed at the Celtic women who enjoyed greater freedoms than the women of Rome and was astonished to discover that women could even become Druids Posidonius returned home and wrote a book about his travels among the Celts which became one of the most popular books of ancient times His work influenced Julius Caesar who would eventually conquer the people of Gaul and bring the Celts into the Roman Empire ending forever their ancient way of life Thanks to Posidonius who could not have known that he was recording a way of life soon to disappear we have an objective eyewitness account of the lives and customs of the ancient Celts
