The Dying Of The Light A Searching Look At America Today:

No Place for Truth David F. Wells, 1994-12-20 Evangelicals argues Wells have largely lost the truth that God also stands outside all human experience that he still summons sinners to repentance and belief regardless of their self image and that he calls his church to stand fast in his truth against the blandishments of the modern world

No Direction Home Natasha Zaretsky, 2010-01-27 Between 1968 and 1980 fears about family deterioration and national decline were ubiquitous in American political culture In No Direction Home Natasha Zaretsky shows that these perceptions of decline profoundly shaped one another Throughout the 1970s anxieties about the future of the nuclear family collided with anxieties about the direction of the United States in the wake of military defeat in Vietnam and in the midst of economic recession Zaretsky explains By exploring such themes as the controversy surrounding prisoners of war in Southeast Asia the OPEC oil embargo of 1973-74 and debates about cultural narcissism Zaretsky reveals that the 1970s marked a significant turning point in the history of American nationalism After Vietnam a wounded national identity rooted in a collective sense of injury and fueled by images of family peril exploded to the surface and helped set the stage for the Reagan Revolution With an innovative analysis that integrates cultural intellectual and political history No Direction Home explores the fears that not only shaped an earlier era but also have reverberated into our own time

The Power of Money Henry L. Bretton, 1980-01-01 Money is both a vibrant dynamic material substance and a social force that permeates industrial societies in their entirety Yet significant aspects of how money works in society are concealed by myths dogmas and misperceptions In The Power of Money Henry Bretton focuses on how money works in a democracy He contends that the well being of political democracy depends on a fuller understanding of the centrality of money in politics and he presents his ideas on monetary policy corruption and reform banking and politics private power within a democracy money in international relations and the system destroying effects of money Bretton considers the subject of money and democracy in the context of how monetarization of societies proceeded from antiquity to the Industrial Revolution and he analyzes the formative years of the United States in terms of being based on political ideas that did not take account of monetarization He reviews what social theorists and economists from Aristotle to Friedman have thought about the role of money in society and how it affects individual behavior and social norms The link between economics and politics has been only partially explored he contends and he sees the major task for social scientists as developing a fuller integration of the two mainstreams of social theory the political and the economic

Persuasions and Prejudices Irving Horowitz, 2017-07-05 Review essays and statements written for special occasions may reveal as much about the writer as those written about this is the presumption undergirding this collection of thirty five years of criticism and commentary by Irving Louis Horowitz For this volume he selected his comments on famous near famous and infamous sociologists political scientists and assorted literary figures in between Taken as a whole this volume will surprise and delight readers who are acquainted with Horowitz s other works as well as those who are interested in the people he writes about The book covers notable social scientists from Arendt to Zetterberg and such major figures in between as Becker Bell de Jouvenel Mills Parsons Solzhenitsyn and more than eighty others who have had an effect on the contemporary social and political landscape Each is critically examined sometimes positively other times negatively Horowitz was a major figure in his own right and his writing here displays the kind of refreshing frankness experts will expect and the general reader will appreciate The underlying assumption behind the volume giving its disparate parts a unified characteristic is that together these observations on others amount to a general perspective on social science held by the author Whether his larger ambition is accepted or disputed there is no doubt that the volume provides a standard against which to measure the literary quality of writing in the world of professional social research

Bibliography of the Writings of Irving Louis Horowitz ,1984-01-01 Bibliography of the Writing of Irving Louis Horowitz 1951 1984 The Writers Directory ,2013 The Search for Wholeness and Diaspora Literacy in Contemporary African American Literature Silvia Castro-Borrego,2011-05-25 This volume has as a cohesive argument the exploration of the different manifestations of the search for wholeness and spirituality in the writings of contemporary African American women writers covering different literary genres such as fiction both novels and short stories drama and poetry Together with the issue of spirituality the African American search for wholeness is analyzed as a source of creativity and agency As expressed in the contemporary literature of black women writers starting in the 1980s the search for wholeness reflects a beauty realized through the healing of the spirit and the body and is a process that takes on dimensions of reconciling the past and the present the mythical and the real the spiritual and the physical all in the context of an emerging world view that welcomes synthesis and expects both synthesis and generative contradictions The book will be a valuable collection for scholars of African American literature comparative American Ethnic literature American literature and spirituality as well as women s studies In addition it will be an important text for both undergraduate and graduate students in those fields As Professor Johnnella Butler 2006 points out the African American search for wholeness is tightly linked to the search for freedom and agency Ever since the 19th century African American writers have given expression to an African American self which functions in Western civilization simultaneously as a colonized other and an assertive self Due to the continuous ordeal of the African Diaspora this self is caught in between the binaries proposed by the material and the spiritual world seeking a balance where the person can become whole The search for wholeness feeds from cultural roots that imply the presence of ancestral spiritualism rememory and double consciousness Contemporary black women writers reflect the metaphor of building spiritual bridges seeking the possibilities of building a bridge to the archetypal African past that is carried in their memories as a presence that offers sustenance via spiritual reconnection Their works seek to bridge the gap between the myths and traditions of the past and contemporary African American culture The texts included in this collection are examples of writing as an exercise of what V v Clark calls Diaspora literacy The texts written by contemporary African American women writers explicitly show how to recognize and read the cultural signs left scattered along the road of progress In this way material acquisition is achieved along with cultural dispossession becoming a metaphor for the history of the African in America The powerful message is that one should not exclude the other
