Crisis and the Everyday in Postsocialist Moscow Olga Shevchenko, 2008-12-17 In this ethnography of postsocialist Moscow in the late 1990s Olga Shevchenko draws on interviews with a cross section of Muscovites to describe how people made sense of the acute uncertainties of everyday life and the new identities and competencies that emerged in response to these challenges Ranging from consumption to daily rhetoric and from urban geography to health care this study illuminates the relationship between crisis and normality and adds a new dimension to the debates about postsocialist culture and politics

Small Fires Christopher Cerf, Marina Albee, L. N. Gushchin, 1990 In Russian ogonyok means small fire It is also the name of a popular magazine which in 1987 became the first publication in the USSR to introduce regular Letters to the Editor column Almost immediately the Letters page became a national forum of opinion as hundreds of thousands of Soviet citizens rushed to test the limits of glasnost The letters create a vivid picture of the people from politicians to farm workers from scholars to homeless from soldiers to pensioners They wrote on a wide range of subjects from mundane concerns like the protracted anguish of trying to buy a new car or get a leaky roof fixed the petty pilfering in factories the shortages of certain foods and time wasted standing in endless lines to such politically charged issues as corruption in the government socialism versus capitalism the truth about Lenin and Stalin and the looming challenge of regionalism Alternately provocative hilarious and moving Small Fires reveals as nothing else could the day today experiences hopes fears frustrations pain anger ideas and dreams of the Soviet people Most of the letters included here were published in Ogonyok some deemed to controversial or inflammatory appear now for the first time Publisher's description
