R. Willison, 1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries

S. Eliot: Critical Essays Mariwan N. H. Barznji, Latif S. N. Berzenji, 2017-08-02 This edited book is the work of four years where the writers try to present a different study and understanding of some of T S Eliots poetry and his unique style of being a modern poet not exactly like the other modernist poets such as Ralph Waldo Emerson We have found that Eliot in his poetry and prose writings was a modernist writer who unlike other modernist poets did not accept the way others rejected the values of religion and tradition Eliot focuses more on the role of religion and tradition in the psychological state of the individual and its impact upon the social stability His viewpoint regarding the vital role of spirituality in the life of the individual could be clearly seen in his poetic poems and prose writings but this aspect has been too little or not tackled as it is done with Homer Making the English Canon Jonathan Brody Kramnick,1998 Examines the English canon in the first two thirds of the eighteenth century The Teaching of Literature ,1929 Library Notes North Carolina College for Women. Library,1926 The Oxford Critical and Cultural History of Modernist Magazines Peter Brooker,Andrew Thacker,2009-03-26 The first of three volumes charting the history of the Modernist Magazine in Britain North America and Europe this collection offers the first comprehensive study of the wide and varied range of little magazines which were so instrumental in introducing the new writing and ideas that came to constitute literary and artistic modernism in the UK and Ireland In thirty seven chapters covering over eighty magazines expert contributors investigate the inner dynamics and economic and intellectual conditions that governed the life of these fugitive but vibrant publications We learn of the role of editors and sponsors the relation of the arts to contemporary philosophy and politics the effects of war and economic depression and of the survival in hard times of radical ideas and a belief in innovation The chapters are arranged according to historical themes with accompanying contextual introductions and include studies of the New Age Blast the Egoist and the Criterion New Writing New Verse and Scrutiny as well as of lesser known magazines such as the Evergreen Coterie the Bermondsey Book the Mask Welsh Review the Modern Scot and the Bell To return to the pages of these magazines returns us a world where the material constraints of costs and anxieties over censorship and declining readerships ran alongside the excitement of a new poem or manifesto This collection therefore confirms the value of magazine culture to the field of modernist studies it provides a rich and hitherto under examined resource which both brings to light the debate and dialogue out of which modernism evolved and helps us recover the vitality and potential of that earlier discussion
