Trubner's Bibliographical Guide to American Literature Nikelus Trubner, 1855 Trübner's Bibliographical Guide to American Literature Nicolas Trübner, 1859 How to Teach American Literature Elizabeth McCallum Marlow, 2017-09-01

How does one keep classic books alive for young people today and teach them that literature is instructional and delightful? How does the teacher foster a classroom environment that encourages student participation and promotes enjoyment so that teenagers learn to appreciate literary study? More specifically, how can teachers cover centuries of American literature with students who don't appreciate why they should read material written centuries ago about people and issues that appear to be irrelevant to life today in a language that seems esoteric? The author of this series of high school teaching guides addresses these issues. How to Teach American Literature: A Practical Teaching Guide provides a detailed resource for teachers or anyone interested in an in-depth study of the subject. This second book in the series covers American literature from the Puritan era to contemporary works. Included are suggestions for cultivating a love for literature, teaching techniques, detailed analyses of each work, questions for review and test questions with suggested responses, essay topics, audiovisual aids, classroom handouts, and recommended books that enhance teaching. The author emphasizes two basic reasons for teaching literature: it is instructional and delightful. This book provides a comprehensive methodology for teaching the subject that a teacher could apply to one year's lesson plans without further investment in time. Elizabeth McCallum Marlow has developed quality comprehensive guides for the teaching community based on her thirty-five years of experience and her passion for literature. Teaching professionals will find her tried and true practices to be invaluable. Johnathan Arnold, MBA, M.Ed., D.Ed., Min. Headmaster, Covenant Christian Academy, Cumming, GA.

Trübner's bibliographical guide to American literature; being a classified list of books publ. in the United States of America during the last 40 years. With an intr., notes [&c.]. Compiled by N. Trübner Trübner and co, 1859 You Do Understand (Slovenian Literature Series) Andrej Blatnik, 2010-09-07

Partly parables, partly fairy tales. You Do Understand is a comedy of errors for a species of talkers who've never learned to listen. This collection of sharp, spare, occasionally absurd, cruel, touching, and yet always generous short short fictions addresses the fundamental difficulty we have in making the people we love understand what we want and need. Demonstrating that language and intimacy are as much barriers between human beings as ways of connecting them, Andrej Blatnik here provides us with a guided tour of the slips, misunderstandings, and blind alleys we each manage to fall foul of on a daily basis, no closer to understanding the motives of our families, friends, lovers, or coworkers than we are those of a complete stranger or indeed our own.

It begins with the works of such late 18th century writers as Phillis Wheatley. Before the high point of enslaved people narratives, African American literature was dominated by autobiographical spiritual narratives. The genre known as slave narratives in the 19th century were accounts by people who had generally escaped from slavery about their journeys to freedom and ways they claimed their lives. The Harlem Renaissance of the 1920s was a great period of flowering in literature and the arts, influenced both by writers who came North in the Great Migration and those who were immigrants from Jamaica and other Caribbean islands.
