Marjorie Perloff

Something Even Human Voices In The Foreground A Lake:

Il Cuore - the Heart Kathleen Fraser, 1997-09-19 Rich and detailed poems by one of America's preeminent experimental writers. Il cuore the heart is a major new collection of poetry by Kathleen Fraser, one of the most significant poets of the last generation and a writer of unusual courage and inventiveness. From the intimacy of early poems to the syntactic play of her much-praised book when new time folds up 1993, Fraser's work examines fields of possibility where the visual, theoretical, and lyrical collide. This book provides a generous selection of work both new and old, tracing the development of her poetics over the last three decades. Rich with detail, these poems radicalize intention by embracing error as in boundayr and reassert language innovation as a feminist strategy. They lead us toward the infinity of a door only slightly ajar and have established Fraser as one of America's preeminent experimental writers.

The New American Poetry John R. Woznicki, 2013-12-24 The New American Poetry Fifty Years Later is a collection of critical essays on Donald Allen's 1960 seminal anthology The New American Poetry, an anthology that Marjorie Perloff once called the fountainhead of radical American poetics. The New American Poetry is referred to in every literary history of post-World War II American poetry. Allen's anthology has reached its fiftieth anniversary, providing a unique time for reflection and reevaluation of this preeminent collection. As we know, Allen's anthology was groundbreaking; it was the first to distribute widely the poetry and theoretical positions of poets such as Charles Olson, Allen Ginsberg, and the Beats, and it was the first to categorize these poets by the schools: Black Mountain, New York School, San Francisco Renaissance, and the Beats, by which they are known today. Over the course of fifty years, this categorization of poets into schools has become one of the major, if not only way that The New American Poetry is remembered or valued. One certain goal of this volume, as one reviewer invites, is to pry The New American Poetry out from the hoary platitudes that have encrusted it. To this point, critics mostly have examined The New American Poetry as an anthology; former treatments of The New American Poetry look at it intently as a whole. Though the almost singularly focused study of its construction and less often reception has lent a great deal of documented, highly visible, and debated material in which to consider, we have been left with certain notions about its relevance that have become imbued ultimately in the collective critical consciousness of postmodernity. This volume, however, goes beyond the analysis of construction and reception and achieves something distinctive, extending those former treatments by treading on the paths they create. This volume aims to discover another sense of radical that Perloff articulated rather than a radical that departs markedly from the usual. We invite consideration of The New American Poetry that is radical in the sense of root, of harboring something fundamental, something inherent, as we uncover and trace further elements correlated with its widespread influence over the last fifty years.

The Haraway Reader Donna Jeanne Haraway, 2004 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an informal company.

Circling the Canon, Volume I Marjorie Perloff, 2019-11-15 One of our most important contemporary critics, Marjorie Perloff has been a widely published and influential reviewer, especially of poetry and poetics.

for over fifty years Circling the Canon Volume I covers roughly the first half of Perloff's career beginning with her first ever review on Anthony Hecht's The Hard Hours The reviews in this volume culled from a wide range of scholarly journals literary reviews and national magazines trace the evolution of poetry in the mid to late twentieth century as well as the evolution of Perloff as a critic Many of the authors whose works are reviewed in this volume are major figures such as W B Yeats Ezra Pound Sylvia Plath and Frank O'Hara Others including Mona Van Duyn and Richard Hugo were widely praised in their day but are now all but forgotten Still others David Antin Edward Dorn or the Language poets exemplify an avant garde that was to come into its own

Manifestly Haraway Donna J. Haraway, 2016-04-01 Electrifying provocative and controversial when first published thirty years ago Donna Haraway's Cyborg Manifesto is even more relevant today when the divisions that she so eloquently challenges of human and machine but also of gender class race ethnicity sexuality and location are increasingly complex The subsequent Companion Species Manifesto which further questions the human/nonhuman disjunction is no less urgently needed in our time of environmental crisis and profound polarization Manifestly Haraway brings together these momentous manifestos to expose the continuity and ramifying force of Haraway's thought whose significance emerges with engaging immediacy in a sustained conversation between the author and her long term friend and colleague Cary Wolfe Reading cyborgs and companion species through and with each other Haraway and Wolfe join in a wide ranging exchange on the history and meaning of the manifestos in the context of biopolitics feminism Marxism human/nonhuman relationships making kin literary tropes material semiotics the negative way of knowing secular Catholicism and more The conversation ends by revealing the early stages of Haraway's Chthulucene Manifesto in tension with the teleologies of the doleful Anthropocene and the exterminationist Capitalocene Deeply dedicated to a diverse and robust earthly flourishing Manifestly Haraway promises to reignite needed discussion in and out of the academy about biologies technologies histories and still possible futures

Mothersongs Sandra M Gilbert, Susan Gubar, Diana Oehir, 1995-05-02 MotherSongs a unique collection of verse about maternity and the celebration of motherhood opens with poems about pregnancy labor delivery and nursing and moves to poems about women raising children delighting in their growth or mourning their loss Includes works by such artists as Emily Dickinson William Blake Walt Whitman and others

The Uncanny Bruce Grenville, 2001 Documenting the image of the cyborg in all its imaginative guises THE UNCANNY includes essays and excerpts by Allan Antliff Bruno Bettelheim Randy Lee Cutler Freud William Gibson Bruce Grenville Makiko Hara Donna Haraway Masanori Oda Jeanne Randolph and Toshiya Ueno One of the most persistent and intriguing cultural images of the last century the cyborg exists at the intersection of science technology and culture and is understood here as an uncanny image that reflects our shared fascination and dread of the machine and its presence in our daily lives

The Body Andrew Blaikie, Mike Hepworth, Mary Holmes, 2003-08-28 This collection offers a uniquely comprehensive guide to the sociology of the body With a strong historical scope and conceptual framework it provides an indispensable reference for undergraduate and postgraduate students and a robust source for scholars working in the area The central focus is on understanding sociology through the body what is often described as re reading sociology in a more corporeal light This is an interdisciplinary process drawing on history feminism cultural history art history anthropology social psychology philosophy medical sociology and media and communications as well as sociology While this has been primarily a Western practice The Body seeks to broaden the perspective to include references that draw on alternative cultural assumptions beliefs and practices including Japan and South America difference The Transmutation of Love and Avant-Garde Poetics Jeanne Heuving, 2016-05-19 The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics is a probing examination of how the writing of sexual love undergoes a radical revision by avant garde poets in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Today the exploration of love by poets long a fixture of Western poetic tradition is thought to be in decline with love itself understood to be a mere ideological overlay for the more real entities of physical sex and desire In The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics Jeanne Heuving claims that a key achievement of poetry by Ezra Pound H D Robert Duncan Kathleen Fraser Nathaniel Mackey and others lies significantly in their engagement with the synergistic relations between being in love and writing love These poets she argues have traded the cliché lover of yore for impersonal or posthuman poetic speakers that sustain the gloire and mystery of love poetry of prior centuries As Robert Duncan writes There is a love in which we are outcast and vagabond from what we are that we call falling in love Heuving claims that this writing of love is defining for avant garde poetics identifying how such important discoveries as Pound's and H D's Imagism Pound's Cantos and Duncan's open field poetics are derived through their changed writing of love She draws attention to how the prevailing concept of language as material is inadequate to the ways these poets also engage language as a medium as a conduit enabling them to address love afresh in a time defined through preoccupations with sexuality They engage love as immanent and change it through a writing that acts on itself The Transmutation of Love and Avant Garde Poetics ascribes the waning of love poetry to its problematic form a genre in which empowered poetic speakers constitute their speech through the objectification of comparatively disempowered subjects or beloveds Refusing this pervasive practice the poets she highlights reject the delimiting one-sided tradition of masculine lovers and passive feminine beloveds instead they create a more nuanced dynamic poetics of ecstatic exploration what Heuving calls projective love and libidinalized field poetics a formally innovative poetry in which one perception leads directly to the next and all aspects of a poem are generative of meaning International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004-08-02 The 13th edition of the International Who's Who in Poetry is a unique and comprehensive guide to the leading lights and freshest talent in poetry today Containing biographies of more than 4 000 contemporary poets world wide this essential reference work provides truly international coverage In addition to the well known poets talented up and coming writers are also profiled Contents Each entry provides full career history and publication details An international appendices section lists prizes and past prize winners organizations magazines and publishers A summary of poetic forms and rhyme schemes The career profile section is supplemented by lists of Poets Laureate Oxford University professors of poetry poet winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature winners of the Pulitzer Prize for American Poetry and of the King's Queen's Gold medal and other poetry prizes The Self and the Political Order Tracy B. Strong, 1992 From the immemorial humans have lived together in groups What it means to be a human being has no other basis than the interactions that take place in these groups Politics then is the shaping of the necessary fact of social interaction This volume concerns itself with the role of the individual in this social and political order Including selections from both classical writers such as Plato and contemporary scholars such as George Kareb Michael Sandel and Donna Haraway the work examines one of the most fundamental questions of human society what part do individual desires and concerns play and what part should they play in political society How can we negotiate the relation between individuals and society between the will of one and the mandate of the multitude Strong s lengthy introduction provides an excellent framework that serves to unify these semial writings

Feminism/Postmodernism Linda Nicholson,2013-04-15 Feminism Postmodernism asks the question is a postmodern feminist politics possible This anthology draws on prominent contemporary theorists to attempt a response The contributors examine the meaning of postmodernism both as a position of method and a diagnosis of the times They consider issues such as the nature of personal and social identity today the relevance of location in constituting theory the political implications of recent aesthetic trends and the consequence of changing work and family relations on women s lives
