People concerned with spirituality are seekers instead of possessing truth they seek to be possessed by it Thus a fully spiritual person is forever learning and growing William Blake the seminal mystic poet who worked to bring about change both in the social order and in common ways of thinking taught that all we need to do is cleanse the doors of perception and we shall see things as they are infinite And nothing cleanses and enlarges the doors of perception like great literature Whether it be poetry a short story a novel historical fiction fantasy literature or biographical writing the literary experience is slightly beyond a reader's horizon of understanding When literature enhances spirituality as is true of the dozen or more selections examined in Deep Splendor each literary moment confounds in order to keep us forever enthralled forever longing The authors and works examined in this study explore timeless spiritual themes such as coming of age relationships self integration the struggle of good versus evil the nature of change and the corruptive aspects of power When we think about great literature it is easy to focus objectively on the literature itself on what makes literature bad or good However another essential distinction involves the reader replacing the category good book with that of good reader As master teacher C S Lewis wrote a quality of good readers is that they seek an enlargement of their being Deep Splendor will teach you how to read great literature and how to be a good reader

Ecocriticism, Ecology, and the Cultures of Antiquity Christopher Schliephake, 2016-12-07 Although current environmental debates lay the focus on the Industrial Revolution as a sociopolitical development that has led to the current environmental crisis many ecocritical projects have avoided historicizing their concepts or have been characterized by approaches that were either pre historic or post historic while the environmental movement has harbored the dream of restoring nature to a state untouched by human hands there is also the pessimistic vision of a post apocalyptic world exhausted by humanity's consumption of natural resources Against this background the decline of nature has become a narrative template quite common among the public environmental discourse and environmental scientists alike The volume revisits Antiquity as an epoch which witnessed similar environmental problems and came up with its own interpretations and solutions in dealing with them This decidedly historical perspective is not only supposed to fill in a blank in ecocritical discourse but also to question problematize and inform our contemporary debates with a completely different take on nature and humanity's place in the world Thereby a productive dialogue between contemporary ecocritical theories and the classical tradition is established that highlights similarities as well as differences This volume is the first book to bring ecocriticism and the classical tradition into a comprehensive dialogue It assembles recognized experts in the field and advanced scholars as well as young and aspiring ecocritics In order to ensure a dialogic exchange between the contributions the volume includes four response essays by established ecocritics which embed the sections within a larger theoretical and practical ecocritical framework and discuss the potential of including the pre modern world into our environmental debates Worlds Within Women Thelma J. Shinn,1986-10-16 Focusing on the connection between metaphor and myth Thelma Shinn provides a metaphoric reading of fantastic literature by women that enables the reader to glimpse its underlying mythic purpose and content She examines some seventy novels by twenty four women writers and draws on a rich variety of secondary sources in literature women s studies science fiction fantasy scholarship and comparative mythology American, African, and Old European Mythologies Yves Bonnefoy,1993-05-15 Here are 80 articles on mythologies from around the world including Native Americans African Celtic Norse and Slavic and about such topics as fire the cosmos and creation Also includes an overview of the Indo Europeans and an essay on the religions and myths of Armenia Illustrations Psychotheatrics Robert D.
