The Disciples And Followers Of Jesus In The Talmud:

Jesus in the Talmud Peter Schäfer, 2009-02-09 Scattered throughout the Talmud the founding document of rabbinic Judaism in late antiquity can be found quite a few references to Jesus and they are not flattering. In this lucid richly detailed and accessible book Peter Schäfer examines how the rabbis of the Talmud read, understood and used the New Testament Jesus narrative to assert ultimately Judaism's superiority over Christianity. The Talmudic stories make fun of Jesus' birth from a virgin, fervently contest his claim to be the Messiah and Son of God and maintain that he was rightfully executed as a blasphemer and idolater. They subvert the Christian idea of Jesus' resurrection and insist he got the punishment he deserved in hell and that a similar fate awaits his followers. Schäfer contends that these stories betray a remarkable familiarity with the Gospels, especially Matthew and John, and represent a deliberate and sophisticated anti-Christian polemic that parodies the New Testament narratives. He carefully distinguishes between Babylonian and Palestinian sources, arguing that the rabbis' proud and self-confident countermesssage to that of the evangelists was possible only in the unique historical setting of Persian Babylonia, in a Jewish community that lived in relative freedom. The same could not be said of Roman and Byzantine Palestine, where the Christians aggressively consolidated their political power and the Jews therefore suffered a departure from past scholarship which has played down the stories as unreliable distortions of the historical Jesus. Jesus in the Talmud posits a much more deliberate agenda behind these narratives. Jesus in the Talmud Bernhard Pick, 2004-10-28 Did Jesus Live One Hundred B. C. ? G. R. Mead, 1993-10-1903 an inquiry into the Talmud Jesus Stories, the Toldoth Jeschu and some curious statements of Epiphanius being a contribution to the study of Christian origins. Contents: Foreword, the Canonical Date of Jesus, Earliest External Evidence to the The Talmud Bernhard Pick, 1887 Did Jesus Live 100 B.C.? George Robert Stow Mead, 2020-09-28 When some five and a half centuries before the Christian era the Buddha arose in ancient Aryavarta to substitute actuality for tradition, to break down the barriers of convention and throw open the Way of Righteousness to all irrespective of race or birth, we are told that He set aside the ancestral scriptures of His race and times and preached a Gospel of self-reliance and a freedom from bibliolatry that will ever keep His memory green among the independent thinkers of the world. When the Christ arose in Judaea once more to break down the barriers of exclusiveness and preach the Way to the Amme ha aretz, the rejected of the ceremonialists and legal purists, we are told that He extended the aegis of His great authority over the ancient writings of His fellow countrymen and cited the Torah as the very Law of God Himself. We are assured by Traditionalists that the Incarnation of Deity Itself, the very Giver of that Law, explicitly attested the genuineness of the Five Books. He with His inerrant wisdom asserted that Moses wrote them just as it was believed by the people of His day. Whereas if there be anything certain in the whole field of Biblical research, it is that this cannot be the whole truth of the matter. It has been said in excuse that the Christ did not come on earth to teach His disciples the higher criticism. This may well be so, and yet it is a fact of profound significance that as we shall see in the course of the present enquiry even in His day this very Torah and much more the Prophets and Sacred Writings were called into serious question by many. If however the Christ actually used the words ascribed to Him in this matter it is difficult to understand why a plan so different in this respect was adopted in the West from the apparently far more drastic attempt that was made so many years before in the East. It may however have been found that the effect of a so abrupt departure from tradition had not proved so successful as had been anticipated for the Brahman instead of giving of his best and allowing himself to become the channel of a great spiritual outpouring for the benefit of the world quickly resumed his ancient position of exclusiveness and spiritual isolation. So in the case of the Jew who was as it were a like channel ready to hand for the West whereby the new spiritual forces could most efficaciously be liberated it may have been thought that if the traditional prejudices of that chosen and peculiar people were more gently treated perhaps greater results would follow. But even so the separative forces in human nature were too strong and the Jew like the Brahman fell back into a more rigid exclusiveness than ever. But the Wisdom behind Her Servants doubtless knew that this would be and reserved both Brahman and Jew for some future opportunity of greater promise while She temporarily utilized them in spite of themselves and in spite of the mistakes of their Buddhist and Christian brethren for all of us Brahmans and Buddhists Hebrews and Christians are of like passions and struggling in the bonds of our self limitations and ignorance we are all children of one Mother our common human nature and of one Father the divine source of our being. It may have been that in the first place the great Teacher of the West made His appeal to the Brahmans of Jewry and only when He found that no impression could be made upon their rigid adherence to rules and customs did he go to the people. There are many Sayings strongly opposed to Legalism as understood by subsequent Rabbinical orthodoxy and as we shall see there were many mystic circles in the early days even on what was considered the ground of Judaism which not only rejected the authority of the Prophets and Sacred Writings but even called into question the Torah proper in much of its contents. Moreover we find that Jesus was among other things called by the adherents of orthodox Rabbinism a Samaritan a name which connoted heresy in general for the strict Jew but which as we shall see seems to the student of history sometimes to stand merely for one who held less exclusive views. However all this may be and whatever was attempted or hoped for at the beginning the outcome was that until about the end of the first century the Christians regarded the documents of the Palestinian canon as their only Holy Scripture and when they began to add to this their own sacred writings they still clung to the Books of Jewry and regarded them with the same enthusiastic reverence as the Rabbis themselves. The good of it was that a strong link of East with West was thus forged the evil that the authority of this library of heterogeneous legends and myths histories and ordinances the literature of a peculiar people and the record of their special evolution was taken indiscriminately as being of equal weight with the more liberal and so to speak universalizing views of the new movement. Moreover every moment of the evolution of the idea of God in Jewry was taken as a full revelation and the crude and revengeful Yahweh of a semi barbarous stage equated with the evolved

Yahweh of the mystic and humanitarian For good or ill Christianity has to this day been bound up with this record of ancient Judaism The Ancestors of the Jew have become for the Christian the glorified Patriarchs of humanity who beyond all other men walked with God The Biblical history of the Jew is regarded as the making straight in the desert of human immorality and paganism of a highway for the Lord of the Christians Jesus who is worshipped by the Christians as God so much so that the cult of the Father has from the second century been relegated to an entirely subordinate position Jeschu ha Notzri was a Jew On the other hand we have to day before us in the Jews the strange and profoundly interesting phenomenon of a nation without a country scattered throughout the world planted in the midst of every Christian nation and yet strenuously rejecting the faith which Christendom holds to be the saving grace of humanity Even as the Brahmanists were the means of sending forth Buddhism into the world and then by building up round themselves a stronger wall of separation than ever cut themselves off from the new endeavour so were the Jews the means of launching Christianity into the world and then by hedging themselves round with an impermeable legal fence shut themselves entirely from the new movement In both cases the ancient blood tie and the idea of a religion for a nation triumphed over time and every other modifying force What then can be of profounder interest than to learn what the Jews have said concerning Jesus and Christianity And yet how few Christians today know anything of this subject how few have the remotest conception of the traditions of Jewry concerning the founder of their faith For so many centuries have they regarded Jesus as God and everything concerning Him as set apart in the history of the world as unique and miraculous that to find Him treated of as a simple man and that too as one who misled the children of His people appears to the believer as the rankest blasphemy Least of all can such a mind realize even faintly that the claims of the Church on behalf of Jesus have ever been thought and are still thought by the followers of the Torah to be equally the extreme of blasphemy most solemnly condemned by the first and foremost of the commandments which the pious Jew must perforce believe came straight from God Himself
