Encyclopedia of Emancipation and Abolition in the Transatlantic World Junius P. Rodriguez, 2015-03-26 The struggle to abolish slavery is one of the grandest quests and central themes of modern history These movements for freedom have taken many forms from individual escapes violent rebellions and official proclamations to mass organizations decisive social actions and major wars Every emancipation movement whether in Europe Africa or the Americas has profoundly transformed the country and society in which it existed This unique A Z encyclopedia examines every effort to end slavery in the United States and the transatlantic world It focuses on massive broad based movements as well as specific incidents events and developments and pulls together in one place information previously available only in a wide variety of sources While it centers on the United States the set also includes authoritative accounts of emancipation and abolition in Europe Africa the Caribbean and Latin America The Encyclopedia of Emancipation and Abolition provides definitive coverage of one of the most significant experiences in human history It features primary source documents maps illustrations cross references a comprehensive chronology and bibliography and specialized indexes in each volume and covers a wide range of individuals and the major themes and ideas that motivated them to confront and abolish slavery Lamps at High Noon Jack S.

Balch, 2000-10-19 The Federal Arts Projects were created by FDR in the summer of 1935 A year later a handful of writers employed in the St Louis office of the Missouri Writers Project including Jack Balch went out on strike Lamps at High Noon is the only novel about this strike and the only one to treat comprehensively any aspect of the Federal Writers Project whose participants included some of the country s most accomplished and promising authors Charlie Gest the wide eyed and well intentioned protagonist of the novel confronts firsthand the project s sometimes underhanded efforts to monitor the political views of its writers Named assistant director of the project in Monroe a fictional St Louis Gest is vaguely aware that the program s good intentions do not always overshadow the abuses it tolerates which include shielding corporate interests and avoiding hiring highly qualified black writers Gest is hounded by a nagging suspicion that like lamps that burn in broad daylight the issues at stake in the work stoppage are not the ones that most need addressing Part radical socialist commentary part absurdist theater Balch s novel offers a peerless critical engagement of the economic constraints and political exigencies surrounding debates over the federal funding of art since the New Deal The North American Folk Music Revival: Nation and Identity in the United States and Canada, 1945-1980 Gillian Mitchell, 2016-02-17 This work represents the first comparative study of the folk revival movement in Anglophone Canada and the United States and combines this with discussion of the way folk music intersected with and was structured by conceptions of national affinity and national identity Based on original archival research carried out principally in Toronto Washington and Ottawa it is a

thematic rather than general study of the movement which has been influenced by various academic disciplines including history musicology and folklore Dr Gillian Mitchell begins with an introduction that provides vital context for the subject by tracing the development of the idea of the folk folklore and folk music since the nineteenth century and how that idea has been applied in the North American context before going on to examine links forged by folksong collectors artists and musicians between folk music and national identity during the early twentieth century With the boom of the revival in the early sixties came the ways in which the movement in both countries proudly promoted a vision of nation that was inclusive pluralistic and eclectic It was a vision which proved compatible with both Canada and America enabling both countries to explore a diversity of music without exclusiveness or narrowness of focus It was also closely linked to the idealism of the grassroots political movements of the early 1960s such as integrationist civil rights and the early student movement After 1965 this inclusive vision of nation in folk music began to wane While the celebrations of the Centennial in Canada led to a re emphasis on the Canadianness of Canadian folk music the turbulent events in the United States led many ex revivalists to turn away from politics and embrace new identities as introspective singer songwriters Many of those who remained interested in traditional folk music styles such as Celtic or Klezmer music tended to be very insular and conservative in their approach rather than linking their chosen genre to a wider world of folk music however more recent attempts at fusion or world music suggest a return to the eclectic spirit of the 1960s folk revival Thus from 1945 to 1980 folk music in Canada and America experienced an evolving and complex relationship with the concepts of nation and national identity Students will find the book useful as an introduction not only to key themes in the folk revival but also to concepts in the study of national identity and to topics in American and Canadian cultural history Academic specialists will encounter an alternative perspective from the more general broad approach offered by earlier histories of the folk revival movement

Sterling A. Brown Joanne V. Gabbin, 1994 Sterling A Brown s achievement and influence in the field of American literature and culture are unquestionably significant His poetry has been translated into Spanish French German and Russian and has been read in literary circles throughout the world He is also one of the principal architects of black criticism His critical essays and books are seminal works that give an insider s perspective of literature by and about blacks Leopold Sedar Senghor who became familiar with Brown s poetry and criticism in the 1920s and 1930s called him an original militant of Negritude a precursor of our movement Yet Joanne V Gabbin s book originally published in 1985 remains the only study of Brown s work and influence

Gabbin sketches Brown's life drawing on personal interviews and viewing his achievements as a poet critic and cultural griot. She analyzes in depth the formal and thematic qualities of his poetry revealing his subtle adaptation of song forms especially the blues. To articulate the aesthetic principles Brown recognized in the writings of black authors Gabbin explores his identification of the various elements that have come together to create American culture. Nelson Algren Richard F. Bales, 2024-11-07 This book addresses critical gaps in existing biographies of Nelson Algren providing new perspectives on his writing style literary contributions professional colleagues and personal life especially his relationship with Simone de Beauvoir. Although Beauvoir maintained a simultaneous relationship with philosopher Jean Paul Sartre the correspondence exchanged between Beauvoir Algren and Sartre as this book discusses sheds new light on her transatlantic love affair with Algren. Moreover this work challenges the assertion that Algren's writing aligns seamlessly with the New Journalism style popularized by Tom Wolfe. It investigates how Algren's literary legacy might have diverged had he embraced more of the principles associated with New Journalism. American Studies Jack Salzman, 1986-08-29 This is an annotated bibliography of 20th century books through 1983 and is a reworking of American Studies: An Annotated Bibliography of Works on the Civilization of the United States published in 1982. Seeking to provide foreign nationals with a comprehensive and authoritative list of sources of information concerning America it focuses on books that have an important cultural framework and does not include those which are primarily theoretical or methodological. It is organized in 11 sections: anthropology and folklore art and architecture history literature music political science popular culture psychology religion science technology medicine and sociology. Each section contains a preface introducing the reader to basic bibliographic resources in that discipline and paragraph length non-evaluative annotations. Includes author title and subject indexes. ISBN 0 521 32555 2 set 150 00.
