The Great American Housing Bubble Adam J. Levitin, Susan M. Wachter, 2020-06-09 The definitive account of the housing bubble that caused the Great Recession and earned Wall Street fantastic profits The American housing bubble of the 2000s caused the worst global financial crisis since the Great Depression In this definitive account Adam Levitin and Susan Wachter pinpoint its source the shift in mortgage financing from securitization by Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac to private label securitization by Wall Street banks This change set off a race to the bottom in mortgage underwriting standards as banks competed in laxity to gain market share The Great American Housing Bubble tells the story of the transformation of mortgage lending from a dysfunctional local affair featuring short term interest only bullet loans to a robust national market based around the thirty year fixed rate mortgage a uniquely American innovation that served as the foundation for the middle class Levitin and Wachter show how Fannie and Freddie s market power kept risk in check until 2003 when mortgage financing shifted sharply to private label securitization as lenders looked for a way to sustain lending volume following an unprecedented refinancing wave Private label securitization brought a return of bullet loans which had lower initial payments enabling borrowers to borrow more but much greater back loaded risks These loans produced a vast oversupply of underpriced mortgage finance that drove up home prices unsustainably When the bubble burst it set off a destructive downward spiral of home prices and foreclosures Levitin and Wachter propose a rebuild of the housing finance system that ensures the widespread availability of the thirty year fixed rate mortgage while preventing underwriting competition and shifting risk away from the public to private investors
