The Earliest Christian Mission To All Nations In The Light Of Matthews Gospel:

The Earliest Christian Mission to "all Nations" in the Light of Matthew's Gospel James LaGrand, 1999 This original work of scholarship clarifies how in light of Matthew's Gospel the first Christians understood and claimed Israel's messianic mission to people of every ethnic group immediately after Jesus' death and resurrection BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Have Mercy on Me Glenna Jackson, 2002-12-01 Matthew's gospel begins and ends with the Jewish Gentile debate and at the heart of both the issue and the gospel is the story of the Canaanite woman It is a story that reveals tension between Jews and proselytes in Matthew's community and responds to the question What must one do to be a member of the community This study focuses on the stereotype of the woman as a Canaanite as well as Matthew's sources and the form of the story The conclusion is that the story reflects a reinforcement of Jewish law that allows gentiles to attain membership in the Matthean community thus continuing the Jewish tradition that allows gentiles into the faith Combining Gospels in Early Christianity Jacob A. Rodriguez, 2023-10-09 In this study Jacob A Rodriguez investigates which gospels tended to keep company with one another in early Christian reading practices By engaging the dynamics of gospel combinations in the Gospel of Thomas the Epistula Apostolorum the Diatessaron second century Christian authors ranging from Papias to Clement of Alexandria and early gospel manuscripts Rodriguez identifies a center of gravity in early Christian gospel reading consisting of the Synoptics and John While second century Christians do not use the terms canonical or noncanonical the gospels we now know as canonical captivated their literary imagination in a manner unparalleled by any other Jesus books The author offers a rigorous philological literary critical text critical artifactual and theological reconstruction of early Christian gospel reading culture Studies in Canonical Criticism Robert W. Wall, 2020-04-16 As one of the leading figures in New Testament studies Robert W Wall has continually focused on the function of the New Testament as a canonical or authoritative collection of writings reflecting not only the content and essence of the Church's emerging faith but also the life to that community of followers of Jesus who eventually became widely known as Christians In the vein of his defining work The New Testament as Canon A Reader in Canonical Criticism Wall now reflects upon his more recent body of study Always emphasizing canonical conversation Wall had collected and revised some of his most important essays of the last two decades including Unity of Luke and Acts 2010 The Unifying Theology of the Catholic Epistles 2003 13 and Images of Church in John's Revelation 2015 Completed by a new essay on the canonical approach to the Paratext of Hebrews and with vital introductory notes for each chapter that highlight both Wall's revisions and his response to critical reception this book is yet one more asset in Wall's continuing pursuit of the canonical function of the church's Scriptures Waging Reconciliation Ian T. Douglas, 2002 On September 20 2001 the planned date of the meeting of the Community of Bishops of the Episcopal Church was radically altered by the events of the previous week The planned topic was God's Mission God's Work in a Global Communion of Difference which was to focus on reconciliation within the Anglican Communion World events changed that The essays of this book are the papers delivered at that meeting which evoked a perspective at once personal and yet global in a new way In the chapel where the meeting was held there was a cross with Christ holding a hammer The Presiding Bishop spoke of this cross as being about the concept described in the Hebrew phrase tikkun olam or repair of the world The ensuing bishops pastoral letter to the church stated Let us therefore wage reconciliation Let us offer our gifts for the carrying out of God s ongoing work of reconciliation healing and making all things new To this we pledge ourselves and call our church

Paul's Understanding of the Church's Mission Robert L. Plummer,2006-06-01 Did Paul expect his churches to engage in evangelistic activity which mirrored his own Or have modern readers of the Bible wrongly projected Paul s apostolic passion upon the communities that he founded Such is the charge of several recent authors and if their thesis is correct nothing could have larger implications for how the modern church engages in mission In this book Robert L Plummer engages in a careful study of Paul s letters to determine if the apostle expected the communities to which he wrote to engage in outward directed missionary activity Plummer helpfully summarizes the discussion to date on the debated issue judiciously handles contested texts and provides a way forward in addressing this critical question While admitting that Paul rarely explicitly commands the communities he founded to evangelize Plummer amasses significant incidental data to provide a convincing case that Paul did indeed expect his churches to engage in outward directed missionary activity Throughout the study Plummer progressively builds a theological basis for the church s mission that is both compelling and distinctively Pauline

Matthew's Gospel and Judaism in the Late First Century C.E. Anthony O Ewherido,2006 Following a thorough examination of the structure language and argument of Matthew s discourse on parables Anthony O Ewherido underscores its primary relevance to the ongoing discussion on the social context of Matthew s Gospel The convincing analysis of the textual evidence and study of some social and historical trends in Christianity and Judaism in the post 70 C E era inform Ewherido s conclusion that at the time the Gospel was written to its predominantly Jewish Christian community that community had parted ways with Judaism and stood at an ideologically irreconcilable distance from the synagogue across the street

Jesus Is the Christ Michael F. Bird,2013-02-27 Entering the fray of a hotly debated issue Michael Bird argues that the title and role of Messiah ascribed to Jesus is not a late addition to the four Gospels but their structural and semantic foundation Stressing that Christianity is itself a messianic movement Bird argues that the messianic testimony is the mother of all Christology

Salvation to the Ends of the Earth Andreas J. Köstenberger,2020-09-15 The saving mission of Jesus constitutes the foundation for Christian mission and the Christian gospel is its message This second edition of a classic NSBT volume emphasizes how the Bible presents a continuing narrative of God s mission providing a robust historical and chronological backbone to the unfolding of the early Christian mission
