A. Rogers,2014-09-15 In the Sex and Race series first published in the 1940s historian Joel Augustus Rogers questioned the concept of race the origins of racial differentiation and the root of the color problem Rogers surmised that a large percentage of ethnic differences are the result of sociological factors and in these volumes he gathered what he called the bran of history the uncollected unexamined history of black people in the hope that these neglected parts of history would become part of the mainstream body of Western history Drawing on a vast amount of research Rogers was attempting to point out the absurdity of racial divisions Indeed his belief in one race humanity precluded the idea of several different ethnic races The series marshals the data he had collected as evidence to prove his underlying humanistic thesis that people were one large family without racial boundaries Self trained and self published Rogers and his work were immensely popular and influential during his day even cited by Malcolm X The books are presented here in their original editions      Women's Work Laurie F. Maffly-Kipp,Kathryn Lofton,2010 This documentary collection gathers together texts by a variety of African American women historians from the antebellum era to the early twentieth century      The Illustrated Dublin Journal ,1862      America Classifies the Immigrants Joel Perlmann,2018-03-26 Joel Perlmann traces the history of U S classification of immigrants from Ellis Island to the present day showing how slippery and contested ideas about racial national and ethnic difference have been His focus ranges from the 1897 List of Races and Peoples through changes in the civil rights era to proposals for
