Education Benjamin Allan Quigley,1987      An Independent Stance W. J. Keith,1991 Part One of this strongly worded informed and wide ranging collection examines key issues for the future of Canadian criticism Part Two offers new readings of important works by Grove Wilson MacLennan Davies Laurence Hood Wiebe Hodgins and Atwood As W J Keith argues We still have a mission to have our literature recognized as an essential reflection of our national life This is what I mean by retrenchment and consolidation Literature can survive without literary criticism but it cannot survive if it is unknown and unread It is criticism's prime function at the present time to see that it is both known and read with that mature enjoyment which is a combination of emotional sensitivity and humane intelligence As critics scholars editors we shall not be fulfilling our responsibilities or justifying our existence if we attempt anything less Or as Keith modestly observes in his introduction to this collection If this book is of any interest it will be because Canadian literature is an important subject Literary commentators like myself are middle men and should be prepared to admit the fact If this book succeeds in helping readers to appreciate the works of Canadian writers that I discuss and to derive increased pleasure and insight from them it will have served its purpose I can see no other justification for it or for any other work of criticism      The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz
