The Disappearance of Literature Aaron

Hillyer,2013-09-26 In this book Aaron Hillyer considers the implications of Maurice Blanchot's strange formulation Literature is heading to its essence which is its disappearance This quest leads Hillyer to stage a dialogue between the works of Blanchot and Giorgio Agamben Despite being primary points of reference for literary theory no significant critical work has examined their literary writings together The Disappearance of Literature initiates this new trajectory through readings of Blanchot's The Unavowable Community and Agamben's The Open two short books that harbor their most enigmatic writings A series of related concepts study community mysticism and friendship emerges from this pairing and Hillyer argues forms the basis of a new vein of contemporary literature found in the novels and hybrid fictions of Enrique Vila Matas Anne Carson and Cesar Aira

The Disappearance of Literature Aaron Hillyer,2011 Abstract To its disappearance is how Maurice Blanchot tells where literature is headed in a brief essay from 1953 Blanchot's exhortation to his fellow writers what will we do to disappear serves as the epigraph for a 2002 novel by Enrique Vila Matas Montano's Malady In The Disappearance of Literature Vila Matas is counted with Giorgio Agamben Anne Carson and Cesar Aira among a constellation of writers that have more or less explicitly pursued the implications of Blanchot's claim in their own works The principal aim of this study is to raise signposts that begin to register how these writers wield the potential that can be glimpsed in Blanchot's statement which is an exemplary attempt to formulate the mode literature assumes when it is aligned with what has been termed by continental philosophy in the Spinoza Nietzsche Deleuze lineage of thought as an immanent ontology The present work is the first sustained scholarly engagement with this increasingly vibrant literary tendency which Hillyer claims attains political significance by showing how literature and innovative action spring from shared resources and experiences This study concludes with a consideration of friendship as the paradigm for the literature and politics that emerge from the encounters it registers
