The Discontinuous Universe Selected Writings In Contemporary Consciousness:

National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1973 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Modern Dogma and the Rhetoric of Assent Wayne C. Booth,1974-10-15 When should I change my mind What can I believe and what must I doubt In this new philosophy of good reasons Wayne C Booth exposes five dogmas of modernism that have too often inhibited efforts to answer these questions Modern dogmas teach that you cannot reason about values and that the job of thought is to doubt whatever can be doubted and they leave those who accept them crippled in their efforts to think and talk together about whatever concerns them most They have willed upon us a befouled rhetorical climate in which people are driven to two self destructive extremes defenders of reason becoming confined to ever narrower notions of logical or experimental proof and defenders of values becoming more and more irresponsible in trying to defend the heart the gut or the gonads Booth traces the consequences of modernist assumptions through a wide range of inquiry and action in politics art music literature and in personal efforts to find identity or a self In casting doubt on systematic doubt the author finds that the dogmas are being questioned in almost every modern discipline Suggesting that they be replaced with a rhetoric of systematic assent Booth discovers a vast neglected reservoir of good reasons many of them known to classical students of rhetoric some still to be explored These good reasons are here restored to intellectual respectability suggesting the possibility of widespread new inquiry in all fields into the question When should I change my mind A Cultural History of the American Novel, 1890-1940 David L. Minter,1994 This book interweaves a wide selection of the novels of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries with a series of cultural events ranging from Buffalo Bill s Wild West Show to the Southern Renaissance of the 1930s Dreams and Dead Ends Jack Shadoian,2003-01-16 Dreams and Dead Ends provides a compelling history of the twentieth century American gangster film Beginning with Little Caesar 1930 and ending with Things To Do In Denver When You re Dead 1995 Jack Shadoian adroitly analyzes twenty notable examples of the crime film genre Moving chronologically through nearly seven decades this volume offers illuminating readings of a select group of the classic films including The Public Enemy D O A Bonnie and Clyde and The Godfather that best define and represent each period in the development of the American crime film Richly illustrated with more than seventy film stills Dreams and Dead Ends details the evolution of the genre through insightful and precise considerations of cinematography characterization and narrative style This updated edition includes new readings of three additional movies Once Upon a Time in America Things To Do In Denver When You re Dead and Criss Cross and brings this clear and lively discussion of the history of the gangster film to the end of the twentieth century The Novel Today Malcolm Bradbury,1977 Britain s most important contemporary authors reflect intelligently and imaginatively on the nature and development of the modern novel The City of the Senses K. DeFazio,2011-10-24 Offers an innovative interdisciplinary approach which opens up new ways of understanding urban culture and space The author approaches the city as essentially a material place where people live work and participate in social practices within historical limits set not by sensory experience or cultural meanings but material social conditions

The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels Eva-Maria Windberger, 2023-07-17 The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels combines the investigation of David Mitchell's novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies empowerment. Aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse the fictional characters and the role of the reader in Mitchell's novels. Drawing on narratological analysis cognitive approaches to literature and reader response theory it features close readings of Cloud Atlas 2004 Black Swan Green 2006 and The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet 2010 and dissects the author's strategies poetics and agenda of empowering fiction. This book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines.

Shamanism and the Eighteenth Century Gloria Flaherty, 2014-07-14 Pursuing special experiences that take them to the brink of permanent madness or death men and women in every age have returned to heal and comfort their fellow human beings and these shamans have fascinated students of society from Herodotus to Mircea Eliade. Gloria Flaherty's book is about the first Western encounters with shamanic peoples and practices. Flaherty makes us see the eighteenth century as an age in which explorers were fascinating all Europe with tales of shamans who accomplished a self-induced cure for a self-induced fit. Reports from what must have seemed a forbidden world of strange rites and moral licentiousness came from botanists geographers missionaries and other travelers of the period and these accounts created such a stir that they permeated café talk journal articles and learned debates giving rise to plays encyclopedia articles art and operas about shamanism. The first part of the book describes in rich detail how information about shamanism entered the intellectual mainstream of the eighteenth century. In the second part Flaherty analyzes the artistic and critical implications of that process. In so doing she offers remarkable chapters on Diderot Herder Goethe and the cult of the genius of Mozart as well as a chapter devoted to a new reading of Goethe's Faust that views Faust as the modern shaman.
