The Dissertation The Discipline Reinventing Composition Studies

Nancy Welch, Tony Scott

The Dissertation The Discipline Reinventing Composition Studies:

The Dissertation & the Discipline Nancy Welch, 2002 Writing a dissertation can be joyful and reaffirming but it can also feel like wandering into a labyrinth where dimly lit pathways twist and turn toward disaster What is a dissertation supposed to look like What is a dissertation supposed to do Who is supposed to or allowed to decide The Dissertation the Discipline brings together both dissertation writers and advisors to grapple with these questions and formulate answers Each chapter highlights the intersection of power and politics in this high stakes rhetorical scene while exploring and describing a range of productive strategies Critiquing standard narratives and traditional assumptions The Dissertation the Discipline offers a radical critique of dissertation writing and advising and challenges us to consider how these practices can be deployed to expand our understanding of the very nature of Composition Studies Composition in the Age of Austerity Nancy Welch, Tony Scott, 2016-04-01 In the face of the gradual saturation of US public education by the logics of neoliberalism educators often find themselves at a loss to respond let alone resist Through state defunding and many other reforms fueled by austerity politics a majority of educators are becoming casual labor in US universities while those who hang onto secure employment are pressed to act as self supporting entrepreneurs or do more with less Focusing on the discipline of writing studies this collection addresses the sense of crisis that many educators experience in this age of austerity The chapters in this book chronicle how neoliberal political economy shapes writing assessments curricula teacher agency program administration and funding distribution Contributors also focus on how neoliberal political economy dictates the direction of scholarship because the economic and political agenda shaping the terms of work the methods of delivery and the ways of valuing and assessing writing also shape the primary concerns and directions of scholarship Composition in the Age of Austerity offers critical accounts of how the restructuring of higher education is shaping the daily realities of composition programs The book documents the effects and implications of the current restructuring examines how cherished rhetorical ideals actually leave the field unprepared to respond effectively to defunding and corporatizing trends and establishes points of departure for collective response Distant Readings of Disciplinarity Benjamin Miller, 2022-12-28 In Distant Readings of Disciplinarity Benjamin Miller brings a big data approach to the study of disciplinarity in rhetoric composition and writing studies RCWS by developing scalable maps of the methods and topics of several thousand RCWS dissertations from 2001 to 2015 Combining charts and figures with engaging and even playful prose Miller offers an accessible model of how large scale data driven research can advance disciplinary understanding both answering and amplifying the call to add replicable data analysis and visualization to the mix of methods regularly employed in the field Writing studies has long been marked by a multitude of methods and interlocking purposes partaking of not just humanities approaches but also social scientific ones with data drawn from interviews and surveys alongside historical and philosophical arguments and with corpus analytics in large scale collections jostling against small scale case studies of individuals These areas of study aren't always cleanly separable shifting modes mark the discipline as open and welcoming to many different angles of research The field needs to embrace that vantage point and generate new degrees of familiarity with methods beyond those of any individual scholar Not only a training genre and not only a knowledge making genre the dissertation is also a discipline producing genre Illustrating what the field has been studying and how Distant Readings of Disciplinarity supports more fruitful collaborations within and across research areas and methods

Voices from Gender Studies Edyta Just, Maria Udén, Vera Weetzel, Cecilia Åsberg, 2023-11-29 The book is aimed at providing an assertion of Gender Studies as a vital community in our time united in a commitment to inquiry It brings forward an interdisciplinary set of early career researchers accounts of their motives for engaging in Gender Studies and of the encounters with limitations as well as possibilities they experience on the paths they have chosen Each chapter is accompanied by a brief response paper where a more senior researcher involves in conversation with respective chapter's content and shares reflections regarding Gender Studies its integration and developments The first level corresponds with the significance of research in the field and its transformative power in and crucially outside the academia The second relates to the value of networking and community building for doing research The book presents Gender Studies in a communicative open manner that invites the reader to engage in and continue the displayed discussions This book will be of interest to students and scholars of gender studies sociology queer studies women's studies trans studies anthropology and literary studies
