Featuring innovative research by emergent and established scholars The Fin de Siecle Poem throws new light on the remarkable diversity of poetry produced at the close of the nineteenth century in England Opening with a detailed preface that shows why literary historians have frequently underrated fin de siecle poetry the collection explains how a strikingly rich body of lyrical and narrative poems anticipated many of the developments traditionally attributed to Modernism Each chapter in turn provides insights into the ways in which late nineteenth century poets represented their experiences of the city their attitudes toward sexuality their responses to empire and their interest in religious belief The eleven essays presented by editor Joseph Bristow pay renewed attention to the achievements of such legendary writers as Oscar Wilde John Davidson Ernest Dowson Lionel Johnson and W B Yeats whose careers have always been associated with the 1890s This book also explores the lesser known but equally significant advances made by notable women poets including Michael Field Amy Levy Charlotte Mew Alice Meynell A Mary F Robinson and Graham R Tomson The Fin de Siecle Poem brings together innovative research on poetry that has been typecast as the attenuated Victorianism that was rejected by Modernism The contributors underscore the remarkable innovations made in English poetry of the 1880s and 1890s and show how woman poets stood shoulder to shoulder with their better known male contemporaries Joseph Bristow is professor of English at the University of California Los Angeles where he edits the journal Nineteenth Century Literature His recent books include The Cambridge Companion to Victorian Poetry Oscar Wilde Contextual Conditions and the variorum edition of Oscar Wilde's The Picture of Dorian Gray

Decadences - Morality and Aesthetics in British Literature Paul Fox, 2012-02-10 This collection seeks to examine the intersections of aesthetics and morality of what Decadence means to art and society at various moments in British literature The inclination toward either the artistic or social perspective in each essay has been rendered more straightforwardly by employing capitalization for aesthetic Decadence and the lower case to illustrate moral decadence Both artistic and social values are inflected by their histories and as time passes so the definition of what it means to be D decadent alters The very ideas of the decline from a higher standard of social malaise of aesthetic ennui all presume certain facts about the past the present and the linear nature of time itself To reject the past as a given and to relish the subtleties of present nuance is the beginning of Decadence Purportedly decadent artists focused upon the fleeting present ascribed value to experiencing the aesthetic moment in its purest form and it was precisely due to this focus upon living in and for the moment that society often responded by expressing moral contempt for the perceived hedonism of art The aesthetic rejection of contemporary value added to the conflict between the literary and social inflections of Decadent interpretation The truly decadent was condemned by artists as the stranglehold society maintained on individual interpretation and the interpretation of oneself This conflict underlies the range of essays in the collection
