The Health of the Oceans, 1982 Monitoring the Health of the Oceans VALEPORT LTD., 1995 The IMLI Treatise On Global Ocean Governance David Joseph Attard, Malgosia Fitzmaurice, Alexandros Ntovas, 2018-07-04

The 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS remains the cornerstone of global ocean governance However it lacks effective provisions or mechanisms to ensure that all ocean space and related problems are dealt with holistically With seemingly no opportunity for revision due to the Convention's burdensome amendment provisions complementary mechanisms dealing with such aspects of global ocean governance including maritime transport fisheries and marine environmental sustainability have been developed under the aegis of the United Nations and other relevant international organizations This approach is inherently fragmented and unable to achieve sustainable global ocean governance In light of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs particularly Goal 14 the IMLI Treatise proposes a new paradigm on the basis of integrated and cross sectoral approach in order to realise a more effective and sustainable governance regime for the oceans This volume focuses on the role of the UN Specialized Agencies towards the development of effective and sustainable ocean governance by looking at the more elaborate mechanisms they developed in order to achieve the desired objectives laid down in UNCLOS From FAO to UNODC the volume examines how they ensure sustainable development and how much coordination exists among them

The underlying approach is geographical, with prominence given to the biosphere, political arrangements and regional patterns, all considered to be especially crucial to the human understanding required for the use and management of the world's oceans. Part one addresses key themes in our knowledge of relationships between people and the sea on a global scale, including economic and political issues and understanding and managing marine environments. Part two provides a systematic review of the uses of the sea, grouped into food, ocean space, materials and energy, and the sea as an environmental resource. Part three on the geography of the sea considers management strategies especially related to the state system and regional management developments in both core economic regions and the developing periphery.
