Speech Communication A Comprehensive Approach:

Speech Communication Ernest G. Bormann, Nancy C. Bormann, 1977 Comprehensive Approach to Communication Bernard J. Brommel, 1976 Contemporary Speech, 1983-08 The comprehensive approach Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2010-03-18 The Defence Committee report recommends that when troops are committed to operations in future there must be robust plans to coordinate military and reconstruction efforts from the earliest stages The next Government should lay out the requirements of the Comprehensive Approach the combination of civilian and military actors in a counter insurgency operation in order better to preserve all the lessons learned in the complex operations of Iraq and Afghanistan many of them having been painfully re learned from Bosnia Kosovo and even Malaya The Committee looks to the recently formed Stabilisation Unit owned by the Department for International Development the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and the Ministry of Defence to maintain a capacity to deploy significant numbers of personnel for post conflict reconstruction and to ensure that vital knowledge and skills gained during deployments in Iraq and Afghanistan are retained and built on The Comprehensive Approach requires close work with local nationals to build up their capability and confidence in all fields including security governance law and order and development This must include women at all levels The Government needs to find better ways to draw on the expertise of NGOs without compromising the effectiveness and safety of aid workers on the ground Twentieth-Century Roots of Rhetorical Studies Jim A. Kuypers, Andrew King, 2001-03-30 Kuypers King and their contributors explore the conception of rhetoric of eleven key American rhetoricians through analyses of their life s work Each chapter provides a sense of that scholar s conception of rhetoric be it through criticism theory or teaching The communication discipline often highlights the work of others outside the discipline however it rarely acclaims the work of its own critics teachers and theorists In this collection the essays explore the innate mode of perception that guided the rhetorical understanding of the early critics In so doing this work dispels the myth that the discipline of Speech Communication was spawned from a monolithic and rigid center that came to be called neo Aristotelianism Scholars and researchers involved with the history of rhetoric rhetorical criticism and theory and American public address uill find this title to be a necessary addition to their collection

Clinical Cases in Dysfluency Kurt Eggers, Margaret Leahy, 2022-09-09 Clinical Cases in Dysfluency is an imperative work that introduces dysfluency in clinical and cultural contexts while encouraging reflection on clinical decision making involving the assessment and management of clients With inputs from eminent clinical researchers across the world this text brings together diverse voices and expertise to provide readers with innovative ideas for their own practice The book assists in refining clinical problem solving and valuing exchanges between clients and clinicians Featuring real life case studies covering stuttering and cluttering in children and adults it showcases the importance of evidence based practice and practitioner reflection demonstrating a range of approaches to address problems experienced with dysfluency and their management. The authors go on to discuss issues of stereotyping resilience and therapeutic commonalities in general and in multicultural contexts whilst also introducing the discipline of Dysfluency Studies where stuttering is considered positively in its complexity and not as a disorder. These concepts are effectively further illustrated through accompanying online resources including videos and weblinks. This is an indispensable resource for students and clinicians in the domains of Fluency Speech and Language Pathology and Communication Disorders and will be valuable reading to anyone interested in communication disorders, dysfluencies and application of theory to practice in these disciplines.

Dialogue and Literature Michael Macovski, 1994-05-12. Extending and reframing the works of Bakhtin, Gadamer, Ong and Foucault with particular emphasis on Bakhtin's late essays, Macovski constructs a theoretical model of literary dialogue and applies it to a range of Romantic texts. In reconsidering specific works within the context of cultural heuristics, rhetorical theory and literary history, Macovski redefines Romantic discourse as both extratextual and agonistic. He thereby re-evaluates such Romantic topics as the history of the autotelic self, the proliferation of lyric orality and the nineteenth-century critique of rhetoric. He examines poetry by Wordsworth and Coleridge as well as such nineteenth-century prose works as Frankenstein, Wuthering Heights and Heart of Darkness.
