CRISIS INTERVENTION AND COUNSELING BY

TELEPHONE AND THE INTERNET David Lester, James R. Rogers, 2012-11-01 This book will further stimulate interest and discussion of the telephone and the Internet as a mode of treatment. In this extensively revised third edition a practical framework for providing immediate problem solving assistance by telephone to persons in crisis is provided. Several new chapters have been added and several chapters have been updated and rewritten. The text offers specific techniques to deal with out of control situations with the highly important initial steps to protect the caller, the crisis worker and the community. The scope of the book includes an overview of counseling by telephone, how to effectively manage crises, how to be supportive verbally and nonverbally, how to accurately assess situations and how to help create a sense of stability. Part I discusses the varieties of telephone services while Part II covers crisis intervention and counseling including telephone therapy, active listening, cognitive therapy, approaches, transactional analysis and learned helplessness approaches as well as Gestalt therapy approaches. Part III discusses a variety of problem callers: the obscene caller, the chronic caller, the silent caller, the nuisance caller and the one counselor caller. A new section, Part IV, Special Topics, includes valuable information on dealing with adolescents, war veterans, rural communities, the elderly and individuals with disabilities on campus. Part V offers a look at contact beyond the telephone including crisis intervention by e-mail and letter. Part VI views the roles of telephone counselors such as the mental health professional, the nonprofessional crisis worker, selecting telephone counselors and training crisis workers. Finally, Part VII summarizes and evaluates today's telephone counseling services. This unique and up-to-date book serves as a comprehensive tool for those setting up telephone and Internet counseling services and those in charge of centers already operating, especially in training and supervising those on the front lines, the crisis interveners. Criminology J. Mitchell Miller, Richard A. Wright, 2013-12-17 This three volume work offers a comprehensive review of the pivotal concepts, measures, theories and practices that comprise criminology and criminal justice. No longer just a subtopic of sociology, criminology has become an independent academic field of study that incorporates scholarship from numerous disciplines including psychology, political science, behavioral science, law, economics, public health, family studies, social work and many others. The three volume Encyclopedia of Criminology presents the latest research as well as the traditional topics which reflect the field's multidisciplinary nature in a single authoritative reference work. More than 525 alphabetically arranged entries by the leading authorities in the discipline comprise this definitive international resource. The pivotal concepts, measures, theories and practices of the field are addressed with an emphasis on comparative criminology and criminal justice. While the primary focus of the work is on American criminology and contemporary criminal justice in the United States, extensive global coverage of other nations' justice systems is included and the increasing international nature of crime is explored thoroughly. Providing the most up-to-date scholarship in addition to the traditional theories on criminology, the Encyclopedia of Criminology is the essential one-stop reference for students and scholars alike to explore the Andriessen, Dolores Angela Castelli Dransart, Karolina Kryszynska, 2021-01-05      Chee Chee Al Evans, 2004-04-26 Benjamin Chee Chee lived with anger and frustration for more than thirty years before he took his own life. An Ojibway artist who killed himself just as he was beginning to gain international recognition, Chee Chee is one of the thousands of Aboriginal peoples in Canada who have committed suicide. Noted suicidologist and former RCMP officer Al Evans explores Chee Chee's wild, reckless creative life to reveal how the clash between Native and White society has affected the suicide rate of young Native men and women, now among the highest in the world. Using his in-depth understanding of Native self-destructive behaviour and information from interviews with Chee Chee's mother, close friends, and fellow artists, Evans shows that understanding Benjamin's suicide requires moving beyond psychological analysis to include the damage that contact with White society has caused. Native culture, heritage, status, and meaning of life. Evans argues that White society needs to understand these dynamics to be involved in the healing process of Aboriginal peoples in Canada or to at least avoid hindering their recovery.

The Handbook of Adult Clinical Psychology Alan Carr, Muireann McNulty, 2016-03-31 The second edition of the Handbook of Adult Clinical Psychology: An Evidence-Based Practice Approach, like its predecessor, provides clinical psychologists in training with a comprehensive practice handbook to help build the skills necessary to complete a clinical placement in the field of adult mental health. While practical in orientation, the book is based solidly on empirical evidence. Building on the success of the previous edition, this handbook has been extensively revised in a number of ways. Throughout the book, the text, references, and website addresses have been updated to reflect important developments since the publication of the first edition. Recent research findings on the epidemiology, aetiology, course, outcome, assessment, and treatment of all psychological problems considered in this volume have been incorporated into the text. Account has been taken of changes in the diagnosis and classification of psychological problems reflected in the DSM-5. Chapters on ADHD in adults, emotion-focused therapy, radically open dialectical behaviour therapy, and schema therapy have been added. The book is divided into 6 sections. Section 1 covers conceptual frameworks for practice, lifespan development, classification, and epidemiology. CBT, psychodynamic, emotion-focused, systemic, and bio-medical models, and general assessment procedures. Section 2 deals with mood problems, depression, bipolar disorder, suicide risk, and anger management. Section 3 focuses on anxiety problems, social phobia, generalized anxiety disorder, panic disorder, obsessive compulsive disorder, post-traumatic stress disorder, and depersonalization disorder. Section 4 deals with psychological problems linked to physical health, health anxiety, somatization, chronic pain, adjustment to cancer, and eating disorders. Section 5 focuses on other significant psychological problems that come to the attention of clinical psychologists in adult mental health services: ADHD in adults, alcohol and other drug problems, psychosis, and psychological problems in older adults. Section 6 contains chapters on therapeutic approaches to psychological distress related to complex childhood trauma, dialectical behaviour therapy for borderline personality disorder, radically open dialectical behaviour therapy for over-controlled presentations, and schema therapy. Each of the chapters on clinical problems explains how to assess and treat the condition in an evidence based way with reference to case material Interventions from cognitive behavioural psychodynamic interpersonal systemic and biomedical approaches are described where there is evidence that they are effective for the problem in question Skill building exercises and further reading for psychologists and patients are included at the end of each chapter This book is one of a set of three volumes which cover the lion s share of the curriculum for clinical psychologists in training in the UK and Ireland The other two volumes are the Handbook of Child and Adolescent Clinical Psychology Third Edition by Alan Carr and the Handbook of Intellectual Disability and Clinical Psychology Practice Second Edition edited by Alan Carr Christine Linehan Gary O Reilly Patricia Noonan Walsh John McEvoy
