Barbagli,2015-10-06 What drives a person to take his or her own life Why would an individual be willing to strap a bomb to himself and walk into a crowded marketplace blowing himself up at the same time as he kills and maims the people around him Does suicide or voluntary death have the same meaning today as it had in earlier centuries and does it have the same significance in China India and the Middle East as it has in the West How should we understand this distressing often puzzling phenomenon and how can we explain its patterns and variations over time In this wide ranging comparative study Barbagli examines suicide as a socio cultural religious and political phenomenon exploring the reasons that underlie it and the meanings it has acquired in different cultures throughout the world Drawing on a vast body of research carried out by historians anthropologists sociologists political scientists and psychologists Barbagli shows that a satisfactory theory of suicide cannot limit itself to considering the two causes that were highlighted by the great French sociologist mile Durkheim namely social integration and regulation Barbagli proposes a new account of suicide that links the motives for and significance attributed to individual actions with the people for whom and against whom individuals take their lives This new study of suicide sheds fresh light on the cultural differences between East and West and greatly increases our understanding of an often misunderstood act It will be the definitive history of suicide for many years to come Selected Letters John

Donne,2017-09-25 Whether sharing his anxieties about his writing consoling bereaved friends complaining about the meanness of a patron or defending himself against malicious gossip John Donne reveals himself in his letters with a directness that can be found nowhere else in his writings These letters corroborate the impression created by his better known writings that he was one of the most remarkable figures produced by the English Renaissance and that he possessed an extraordinarily subtle and creative intelligence The Foundations of English Literature Fred Lewis Pattee,1899

Sea-mark Philip Edwards,1997-01-01 An original study of the use made by a number of major writers in sixteenth and seventeenth century England of the metaphor of the voyage showing how powerfully it operated and how fundamental it is for our proper understanding of some of the best known works of Renaissance literature This well written and jargon free book is recommended for academic libraries supporting both undergraduates and advanced students and scholars Choice an interesting and worthwhile read for both scholars and students Early Modern Literary Studies The Works of John

Harvey, Timothy M. Harrison, 2024-05-10 A reimagining of Devotions upon Emergent Occasions as an original treatment of human life shaped by innovations in seventeenth century science and medicine In 1624 poet and preacher John Donne published Devotions upon Emergent Occasions a book that recorded his near death experience during a deadly epidemic in London Four hundred years later in the aftermath of our own pandemic Harvey and Harrison show how Devotions crystalizes the power beauty and enduring strangeness of Donne s thinking Arguing that Donne saw human life in light of emergent ideas in the study of nature physics and the study of the body physick John Donne s Physics reveals Devotions as a culminating achievement a radically new literary form that uses poetic techniques to depict Donne s encounter with death in a world transformed by new discoveries and knowledge systems John Donne George Parfitt,1989-02-22 John Donne s individuality has been heavily stressed in the twentieth century This book recognises the individuality of Donne s writing but aims to relate this to the particular circumstances of his life and to the pressures of the period in which Donne lived Both his poetry and his prose are seen less in purely aesthetic terms therefore than as products of a difficult life lived at a difficult time The Clarion tracts. Packet 1-6 Clarion tracts,1858 Experiential Religion Richard R. Niebuhr,2004-01-15 A distinguished American theologian provides a firm theoretical basis for understanding the widespread quest for religious experience in the midst of a technological society The book describes elements of experience common to people today and presents them as moments of possible awakening to a new quality of perception Religion is the perennial striving of men and women for orientation in a world they experience as a field of assailing powers Dr Niebuhr interprets human faith as a sense of alignment with general patterns of action within this power world In our electronically amplified age we share in the experience of others to an extent that strains the resilience of the human spirit Whatever else people in this age require one is the capacity for inclusiveness or generosity on a new scale Within this perspective the author interprets the contemporary meaning of Jesus of Nazareth as a persuasive pattern of generous life manifesting the direction of true power The Fortnightly ,1890 Figures of Several Centuries Arthur Symons,1916 Jonah and the Human Condition Stuart Lasine,2019-09-19 Stuart Lasine examines all aspects of the human situation and condition in Yahweh s cosmos as depicted in the Hebrew Bible As his starting point Lasine uses the phrase the human condition which has been used to describe features of existence with which every person must cope in ways which vary according to their culture their situation within that culture and their personality In particular the most consistent factor that is basic to the human condition is mortality and in the biblical context the sometimes difficult relationship between the creator God and humankind An examination of this forms the basis of Lasine s study which draws analytical tools from several disciplines including literary theory psychology and philosophy In the first part of the book Lasine examines a number of relevant biblical texts which display different aspects of the human condition Part two engages in a detailed case study of one human life situation that of the prophet Jonah Finally Lasine draws together his conclusions about life and death in Yahweh s cosmos both for characters within the world of the scriptural text and for present day readers of the Hebrew Bible The Works

John Donne, 1839 The Works of John Donne ... With a Memoir of His Life. By [i.e. Edited By] Henry Alford John Donne, 1839 The Complete Poetry and Selected Prose of John Donne John Donne, 2001-08-14 This Modern Library edition contains all of John Donne's great metaphysical love poetry. Here are such well-known songs and sonnets as "A Valediction: Forbidding Mourning," "The Extasie," and "A Nocturnall Upon S. Lucie's Day," along with the love elegies "Jealousie," "His Parting From Her," and "To His Mistress Going to Bed." Presented as well are Donne's satires, epigrams, verse letters, and holy sonnets, along with his most ambitious and important poems, the Anniversaries. In addition, there is a generous sampling of Donne's prose, including many of his private letters, "Ignatius," "His Conclave," a satiric onslaught on the Jesuits, excerpts from "Biathanatos," his celebrated defense of suicide, and his most famous sermons, concluding with the final "Death's Duell." We have only to read Donne, wrote Virginia Woolf, to submit to the sound of that passionate and penetrating voice, and his figure rises again across the waste of the years, more erect, more imperious, more inscrutable than any of his time.
