management or the sociology or history of sport No Holding Back Michael Holding,2010-05-20 The autobiography of West Indies fast bowling legend turned Sky pundit Michael Holding author of the award winning Why We Kneel How We Rise
As one of the fastest bowlers the world has seen Michael Holding went by the haunting nickname Whispering Death claiming 249 Test wickets Despite having not laced his bowling boots since 1989 it remains a fitting sobriquet As a commentator and administrator Holding has delivered his views on cricket in the same manner that he played the game he speaks softly with a rich Jamaican rhythm and is calculated in either criticism or compliment NO HOLDING BACK charts his effortless transition from one of the great players to one of the great pundits Holding graphically describes his days as a player looking back at how he tried to deliberately hurt batsmen on the wastelands of Kingston and his first match for Jamaica when he almost collapsed from exhaustion after only four overs There is time too to divulge what it was like to tour with the West Indies and unmissable insights about sharing a dressing room with other legends of the game like Clive Lloyd Sir Viv Richards and Malcolm Marshall Holding does not shirk the big issues as he discusses how the West Indies have slipped following their halcyon days openly assesses Brian Lara and laments the hypocrisy over the state of the game in the region The controversy surrounding the Allen Stanford 20m spectacle the ICC s handling of the abandoned England v Pakistan match player power illegal bowling actions and the threat of Twenty20 to the Test game are all subjects which Holding tackles with characteristic knowledge and class Recently Published Articles - American Historical Association American Historical Association,1983

Reviving the Fourth Estate Julianne Schultz, 1998-11-16
The news media is traditionally the watchdog of democracy. Today it is also one of the most pervasive global industries. In this lively and accessible book, Schultz systematically analyses the role of journalism in Australia and the scope of its democratic purpose. She examines key news stories and looks at the attitudes of Australian journalists themselves. The fourth estate remains the ideal of most journalists, but the reality has been impaired by the increasing concentration of media ownership and by political, ethical, and occupational interests. While Australian journalism has become bolder and more investigative, increasing commercialism and decreasing ethical standards have left the public sceptical. Schultz argues for a revival of the fourth estate based on journalistic independence and political autonomy, together with increased accountability and responsiveness.

The Norman Geras Reader Ben Cohen, Eve Garrard, 2017-07-21
This is the first book to gather the key writings of the distinguished political theorist Norman Geras into a single volume, providing a comprehensive overview of the thinking of one of the most important Marxist philosophers in the post-war era. Among the essays included here are 'The Controversy about Marx and Justice', 'The Duty to Bring Aid', 'Primo Levi and Jean Amery', 'Shame and the contentious Euston Manifesto', which lays down a set of central principles for the democratic left in the twenty-first century. The reader is rounded out with several posts from Geras's much-loved and widely-read Normblog, as well as companion essays by Alan Johnson and Terry Glavin, which explore how Geras's philosophical concerns led to his more recent trenchant critiques of the direction of left-wing politics.

Remembering Histories of Trauma Gideon Mailer, 2022-03-24 Remembering Histories of Trauma compares and links Native American First Nation and Jewish histories of traumatic memory. Using source material from both sides of the Atlantic, it examines the differences between ancestral experiences of genocide and the representation of those histories in public sites in the United States, Canada, and Europe. Challenging the ways public bodies have used those histories to frame the cultural and political identity of regions, states, and nations, it considers the effects of those representations on internal group memory, external public memory, and cultural assimilation. Offering new ways to understand the Native Jewish encounter by highlighting shared critiques of public historical representation, Mailer seeks to transcend historical tensions between Native American studies and Holocaust studies. In linking and comparing European and American contexts of historical trauma and their representation in public memory, this book brings Native American studies, Jewish studies, early American history, Holocaust studies, and museum studies into conversation with each other. In revealing similarities in the public representation of Indigenous genocide and the Holocaust, it offers common ground for Jewish and Indigenous histories and provides a new framework to better understand the divergence between traumatic histories and the ways they are
